“ I would like to offer my sincere condolences on Mrs. Carpenter’s death. No matter when a loved one leaves they are gone too soon. Death separates family members and it results in deep sorrow.

I did not personally know Mrs. Carpenter, but I would like to express my sentiments at this grievous time. Your hearts are saddened. Yet, God is willing to give you the necessary wisdom and strength for recovery. Jesus wept when he lost his dear friend. (John 11:33, 35) Yet, he said “Do not let your heart be troubled”. (John 14:27)

So despite the pain of grief, never give up. Let it be your resolve to continue to work your way through sorrow. Prayer is a powerful tool during this troublesome time.

What a blessing it will be when we can rightly ask: “Death, where is your victory? Death, where is your sting?”—1 Corinthians 15:55.##imported-begin##Virgie Pitts##imported-end##

“ I pray for strength for Shirley's "blood" family and for all the other families that she has been a great part of. With her awesome Spirit, she made many families out of the people she worked with and others she bonded with- and we all felt loved by her and we all loved her. We are all missing her very much. I know she is rejoicing with the Lord and that makes me smile. I have many wonderful memories of her that I will keep forever. I worked part time with her for over 3 and a half years and she kept our small department bonded. It was Shirley that arranged most of our "once a month" dinners, it was Shirley that trained me and taught me to do an excellent job when caring for the department, it was Shirley who had such a playful Spirit and made most of us laugh... and for that, we are feeling this great loss. All over the entire store, people are saying how much they will miss her. Shirley is alright now... the rest of us will need God's strength during this time... and God is faithful to deliver it. May God bless her family and the many other people who loved her. She really lived a life full of fun and love!###imported-begin###Kondra Eiland Konate' (Sears fine jewelry department)###imported-end###
