“ I sincerely offer my condolence. Words seem insufficient at this dire time. Although nobody denies the certainty of death, we all need comfort in the reality of it. May you find real comfort and relief, and as a result, begin to recover gradually from the pain. Love from those around you will help you through the days ahead. The precious memories of Tauana Lynn Heath will bring you comfort. However, even in the face of calamity you can have hope. God will comfort and bless you at this critical time. Do not let your hearts be troubled. (John 14:27) With My Deepest Sympathy. Geneva Humphrey- McClendon Detriot, Michigan.##imported-begin##Geneva Humphrey McClendon##imported-end##

“ Dear Family: When we first hear about a loved one who has died, we plunge into denial and despair. As we become better able to reflect on that person we are moved into a thoughtful silence, a quiet sadness, a longing for one more day to be able to see, touch and talk with our loved one again. Little by little we begin to remember that she not only died, but she lived also and that the beauty she gave of herself while living will remain in our hearts forever. But just as we can never forget our loved ones who have died, neither can our Loving God forget them. He has promised us that our dead loved ones will live again, not only in our hearts, but in an earth made beautiful by Him. (John 5:28,29) We will then be able to see, touch, talk to and enjoy the company of our loved ones forever! (Psalm 37:11,29) All conditions causing death will be eliminated and even death, itself, will be destroyed (1 Corinthians 15:26; Revelation 21:4). Mankind (including Tauana) will then be able to live out his days the way God originally intended... 'even life forever more'. (Psalm 133:3) So, even though there are tears today, I hope that future days will help you to see that God promises a beautiful tomorrow. (Titus 1:2) My deepest heartfelt sympathy to you.##imported-begin##joyce jones##imported-end##
