“ Hey girl, I'm still in shock. You are truly loved and missed. Dont worry girl, the kids are straight for X-MAS.. and now you no longer have to worry about them. "I GOT U", as you'd always tell me...lol Your family is in good hands and as always, in my prayers. Thank you so much for all the love and support I've received from you from the days I felt alone when just moving here until now. I love your spirit and will continue to love your spirit. I know that you are resting and smiling down looking at us. Again, I'll forever miss not being able to see your face, but until we meet in heaven, I love you...

Your girl, always,

“ Because I believe with all of my heart that God is too wise to make a mistake, I am at peace with the painful decision that he made on November 16th. Trisha your transition has made me grateful for all that I have and am although at time it may not seem to be much. I am blessed to have had you in my life as a sister. I love you and I always will. I will continue to keep your family and especially the kids in my prayers because as I told your mother "nobody can ever mother those kids as you did". Only God knows the pain I have endured with your sudden passing. Trisha you told me you were tired so now it's time you rest..you know I love you but GOD loves you best!###imported-begin##Anitra Freeman##imported-end##

“ Trish---This is probably one of the most sad things I have done in a long time. My peace comes in knowing that, God has you. I sense your presence so I know that your spirit watches over all that miss and love you so much. You were the one person who looked past my harsh exterior and saw my heart! I still cannot believe that you are gone but rest knowing that all is well with Diamond, Heaven, and Faith. You have an awesome support system and many who will always cherish your warm memories. I know Troy, your parents,sister, brother and a host of other family members are grieving you, but I know that God has you and I will continue to pray for their strength in the coming days. Rest well for you have no more worries or struggles to endure. You fought hard and ran this race, but God said come and rest and you did. I miss you and love you more than I can ever write. Thank you for believing in Leading Women Outreach Ministries and we will honor you soon in a special way. I will always remember what you told me "I got you." Thank you for making my life special and always having my back. In your words "MANDATORY"! Love you always. Kathy###imported-begin###Kathy Arnold###imported-end###

“ Gone too Soon,

We did not have enough time together cousin. I praise God that we were able to hang out and get to know each other before He called you Home. My life is better for having spent even a short amount of time with you.

I will be in constant prayer for your parents, sister & brother, husband and children who have to be here without you. The entire family will miss you.

Keep watching over us from up there until we see each other again.

I love you

“ Sadness has filled my heart with news of a soldier who has fallen down while traveling to fulfill happiness to her family. The fight she fought while she was here is one that we all fight. The fight to love and be loved. The fight to give joy and happiness to those we love. She fought that battle every day until her last one.

I am honored to know her and grateful to have said hello. I give thanks to GOD to allow all of us see, to hear and to listen from her. A humble soul.

I “Praise GOD” for that moment, because that moment may be the last one we have.

Watch over us soldier, until we meet again.###imported-begin##RONNO TUCKER###imported-end##

Most of all I will miss your imperishable support. Just being able to know you has been a blessing for me. "Weeping may endure for a night, but Joy comes in the morning" It's morning time... Rest well, Dear Heart, for we will meet again.##imported-begin##Crystal Y. Johnson##imported-end##
