“ *Sorry about the passing of T.J. I had the privilege of getting to know him while remodeling his home. Even though his health was slowly fading he was always kind. But the greatest lesson for me was the way Philus (his wife) cared for him down to the end. She would work the night shift as a nurse then come in and care for her husband during the day. I would wonder where she got the energy from but she told me where.(2 Corinthians 4:7) I send my condolences to the family, as we all are comforted from the scriptures and look forward to a time when sickness and will be no more. “ May the hope at Isaiah 25:8 bring the Allison family much comfort, here God assures us that death will be swallowed up or removed from all the earth. This is something that we can look forward to in the near future.##imported-begin##Ariel##imported-end##

“ I was so sorry to read about the loss of Tildon and I would like to extend my condolences to your family. Having to cope with the loss of a loved one can be difficult but God has promised a time when we can see our loved ones again (Isaiah 26:19; John 5:28,29). Until that time please know you can rely on God for comfort.

Respectfully,

“ Dear Family: As we await the time when Christ Jesus will awaken all who have fallen asleep in death, (John 5:28,29) please accept my sincere condolences during this time of bereavement for your loved one, Mr. Allison. I pray our Grand Creator and God of all Comfort, will strengthen you to endure the tears that now cloud your eyes and the pain that now fills your heart. (2 Corinthians 1:3,4; 4:7) Hopefully, being reminded that God will soon destroy DEATH will give you assurance of better times to come (Revelation 21:4) May it also comfort you to know that God sees your tears and understands your pain and that he cares very much for you.
