“ Reading these words of sympathy makes me think of our wonderful life together! It's been thirteen years, but in a sense it was yesterday! Our love has lasted even though you are not here in the physical sense. Life has gone on for me, and your spirit and love has been throughout each other! My love everlasting!

“ I just would like to thank each and everyone who signed into this site to express their sympathy in the recent loss of my beloved husband. He was, indeed, a fine man, a great friend and a wonderful husband. I am so honored to have spend the last 18 years with him as my mentor, my teacher, my best friend and my devoted husband. There aren't words to describe my loss to you, my life is so entwined with his that it is impossible for me to even consider living without him. But, I know he is encouraging me every minute of every day, just as he always did anytime I expressed self-doubt. He lives on in my heart, my soul and my everyday thoughts until God calls me home to join him. My faith in God and my undying love for my husband is all that sustains me at this time. I will be in contact with each of you at a later date; in the meantime, please keep me and my family in your prayers.##imported-begin##Beatrice Davis, Vernon's wife##imported-end##

“ Beatrice... You and I have never met to my recollection (and if we have, forgive an aging man). The Hardge's and Davis's are original "settlers" in Fisk Park so that establishes the depth of our relationship. I will always remember Vernon for his laughter, zest for happiness and fun, and being there for me during my growing anxieties with life as a young boy. He met you, chose you and dedicated himself to you, which in itself is monumental today. His being gone may cease the collection of memories for me, but to meet a person, grow with them, then embark on life's separate journeys as friends is pretty special too. We left the 'Hood years ago, going on to our individual endeavors without any goodbye. Yet if life has taught me one thing, it's that real friends don't say goodbye, just "See ya' later". And Vernon was real.##imported-begin##Mark S Hardge##imported-end##

“ Beatrice...Be at peace with God whatever you conceive Hime to be! With all of life's broken dreams you had with Vernon, the beauty of the world shines with the memories of him. Be careful and strive at being a happier person which you are. I will keep in touch with you through Debbie...With Love...Beulah Hardge###imported-begin##Beulah Hardge and Family###imported-end##

“ My Dear Aunt Beatrice, although this is a difficult time that we must endure I rest on the fact that God is the Creator and the Master of all things. I fret not and rely on Him to ease the pain. The stories I was blessed to hear about my Uncle thrilled my heart and blessed my spirit. I celebrate his life and thank God that he placed Vernon in my life as my Uncle, my only Uncle. He was a gift to many people and will be missed but NEVER forgotten. I love you Beatrice and I love you Uncle Vernon.##imported-begin##Kimberly Driver##imported-end##
