“ It is so hard when we lose our parents. Even though we are imperfect and make mistakes. Our Heavenly Father Jehovah, does not throw us away. He is there when ever we need him. We can be comforted in his word the bible, which is like a manual for life. We must go on with our lives and trust in our Grand Creator who knows the DNA of all. He has given Jesus "all authority". Jesus knows the names of all man, he will call his name and he will come out. Stay strong, and focused on the happier times shared with Mr. Johnson. Those are memories that will comfort you. Let go of the past. There is nothing anyone can do about that. You make your future the very best. Revelations 21:3-5; 1 Thessalonians 4:13-14; John 5:28-29 and Luke 23:43.##imported-begin##Mrs. Malone##imported-end##

“ Good morning God. How is my daddy doing? And my mom? I feel so very sad but God you are the all knowing God that only you are. I know I'm not perfect, but I'm trying to be right by your human creations. Please God help me during this time. I've never felt this type of pain and oh my, you must be really testing me! I understand and have read over and over Eph. 6 beginning with "Children, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right..." and then it goes to verse 4 which reads: And, ye fathers (mothers), provoke not your children to wrath: but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.

Lord, I communicated with my brother, Jeffery, and he too is not perfect and he's not been around our dad since his illness but I do understand, don't necessarily agree, but I understand my brother's pain and hurt which should have been resolved by our father long before our father's illness.

God, I believe that our daddy did the best he knew to do but it is now up to us to do better by our children and our children to do better by their parents because it says so in your Word.

I must and do forgive my daddy, and I pray that all five of my siblings remember our father as a man who if he knew better, would have done better.

God please forgive me for any and all times I've been disobedient, as a child, or disrespectful to my daddy or mom during their lifetime.

I love you daddy and mommy.##imported-begin##Cynthia A Johnson##imported-end##

“ Where do I begin....I really wish I would have spent more time with you granddad, you are now gone to be with the Lord and the times can't be rewound. I'm thankful for the times that we did have together grandfather. I will forever remember the last pucker of your lips to kiss me when I came into your room and said "Hello grandfather, it's Tyhecia". You are now flying high with Grandma, give her a HUGE kiss for me. I love you now and forever....your Grand-daughter.##imported-begin##Tyhecia Hoskins##imported-end##

“ To the children of Willie Louis Johnson,

I am sorry to hear about the loss of your father. I'm sure that each of you will miss him in you on ways. And because you will on occasion miss him he will never really be away from you. You all are now the book/memories of who you father was. Share them with each other so that you keep his existence intact for all. Again, sorry for your loss.

To Cynthia,

I know how it can hurt to loose someone close, and while each of us might have some issue with what took place in our lives as it relates to a father or a mother, we have to let the water flow past. The important thing now is to remember all the good things that came from your father, because now anything that was a negative influx has past you in the flowing water. Be strong and be well. Remember that ardent all perfect but we are always different things to many people. And as such you will find a new perspective as the years past by. Cherish each time you father's birthday passes by because that is a time for you to remember those things that were good for you.

We are all just memories, so we should never let those things we remember fade away because when they do a part of who we are fades away as well.

Cyn, be strong because you are. Not because you need to be.....##imported-begin##Grwg Chamberlain##imported-end##

“ Daddy, you left a lot of unresolved issues and still really never apologized for the hurt you caused us your four children and our mother, your wife of over 34 years.

As we sat on the porch about 1 week ago, we began talking about the twins and how you love them. As I told you then, I don't know them but I will try to get to know them. They, as well as we, were innocent in this selfish adult thing called adultery.

Lesson for all, think with your brain about how your actions will effect others.

And daddy, I continue to love with all my heart and may God forgive you as I have to let go and also forgive you.

Rest in peace.##imported-begin##Cynthia A Johnson##imported-end##

“ I love you daddy. I wish we could have had that last conversation but it just didn't happen. However, I'm thankful for the last many kisses you gave me on July 4th.

You weren't perfect but none of us are. I take comfort in knowing that you weren't afraid to die and you told me that you believe in the Lord Jesus Christ as your Savior.

Say hello to mama for me. I know I'll see you again. I love you.

Your oldest of two daughters.##imported-begin##Cynthia A,
