“ Hi, My name is W'an and T use to work for me at Club Cartier. All I have is great memories of T and good times. Actually, I'm the one that named her T because I could never remeber or pronounce her real name(Lartigue) so one day I asked her, can I call you T and she said Yea,I don't care , and we went from there. I know she loved her son very much, she constanly talked about him on reguarly basics. If he done something bad she told us, if he done something good she told us, she just loved her son unconditionally.(smile)and I can relate to that because I have only one child(son). It was so easy to tell that she was well loved by so many people, because people always came to see her and request that their drink only be made by her(T). There had been times when customers came in with such a plain face, things on their mind, but after having T wait on them they always left out laughing and smiling saying "I'll be back to see her". She and myself joked alot with my dad and others people because always thought she was my sister. They either thought she looked like me or my sister. It had been so many times that people had mistake her for me including my own family. My last words to "T" will be "T" was a sweetie and she will truly be missed. GOD BLESS her, her son and her family!##imported-begin##W'an Jones##imported-end##

“ You are my sister and you are my friend! Today I love you, but more than yesterday, yet not as much as tomorrow! Though my heart greives and my spirit yearns for you, I understand that your journey on this side came to an end when God heard your silent tears. You are now at peace so I give all praises to Him and await the time when we meet again! I miss you Latice...Love From Your Sister, Rissa###imported-begin##Rissa###imported-end##
