Mrs. Poole your presence is missed everyday. To meet someone like you whose spirit was so kind and beautiful is rare in today's world. I am blessed to have met you and I thank you so much for giving me the opportunity here at Molina.....

“ I have never met a woman that was so driven by a thirst for education. She was always reading, studying and putting herself in a position to learn something new. I use to say to her jokingly... "YOU READING AGAIN??" LOL

i truly believe that once Pam completed her Doctorate that she would have found a new educational challenge.... law school, a Professor at Harvard, or maybe even an Astronaut at NASA. No educational challenge was too great for her.

Pam, your friendship, your class, that beautiful smile and warm laugh will never be forgotten. You can close the text books, put the pens and pencils away, and close the laptop. God will need you to help educate the other Angels in Heaven. God Bless You!!
