In Loving Memory Of Patrick Jermaine Bryant:

Patrick Jermaine Bryant was born September 13, 1978 in Pontiac, Michigan to Sarah Lee Bryant and Jason O. Bryant. Sr.

Patrick attended Central High School. He began to work as a craftsman. He enjoyed building trades. He had a love for cars and collecting watches. He also loved to dress nice. He definitely had a boss persona.

Patrick was a great father and anyone that knew him knew his children were his top priority. He was very giving and took care of those around him.

“ You were my best friend . You understood me better than I understood myself. I can't believe that you are gone. You were the most respectful, kind and loving friend. You changed my life with caring words of encouragement. You will be miss. I am so hurt right now. Words can't describe the way I feel inside. A man that put his children and others needs ahead of his own. I am sorry that we lost contact. I can't believe that you are gone. I will always love you.

Today is Pat's Birthday. He just popped up in my thoughts and I looked at the date. We lost contact years ago, and today I just wanted to look him up and find him. This is where I've landed. Very sad & heartbroken. We were very tight back in 98-2000. There are a lot of memories. I wish I knew what happened to him.. such a sweetheart. 💔

Hi I'm a long time friend of pat. We lost contact years ago when I moved. Every year I think of him on his birthday. I was curious of how he was doing or how to contact him. I found out he died & it broke me into pieces. Please share with me about what happened to him. I can't believe it. He had a good heart and took care of the people around him.
