

Mr. Reginald Dwight Wilson

May 1, 1958 - October 2, 2018

His Story:

Reginald Dwight Wilson better known as “Reggie” was born on May 1, 1958 in Detroit, MI to the union of Andrew (predeceased in death) and Esther Wilson. He was the eldest of ten siblings. One of his younger sisters, Olivia Diann Wilson, preceded him in death.

Reggie had only one child, a daughter that he loved very dearly, Nakea Jacqa’ Slaughter. Their relationship was close and genuine, as they spent precious daddy/daughter moments making up for lost time.

Reggie accepted Jesus as his Lord and Savior at an early age, and recently rededicated his faith. He was educated in the Detroit Public School system.

If you knew Reggie Wilson, you knew he loved to stay sharp with his fresh hat collection, his sweet canes, and his many suits. If you saw him at a distance you knew EXACTLY who he was; his stride was as identifiable as one’s fingerprint. Reggie had a hearty appetite for delicious food. He loved to dance, listen to music and have a good time. His wit and humor were unmatched; you can almost hear his laughter. He had a true gift of gab, he did not hesitate to give you his opinion. He was a loyal friend. His greatest pleasures were in the company of family and friends.

Reggie made his transition on October 2, 2018.

“ Reggie was my first love. We were young, only 16. We had lots of fun together, as we got older, we grew apart. The last time I seen him was a few years ago, walking down Quincy. I told him who I was and he said, "Girl, I'd kill the whole America for you! We laughed. Rest in peace Reggie 🥹 Anita Fay
