“ *To the Daniels family,
I my heart aches for your loss. Eugene is a great man and I were very dear friends over many years and through college. I have and will continue to miss him dearly. To his children Abeni, Matthew, and Jelani(Who now his father has joined), just know time heals all everything through our lord and saver Jesus Christ. To Donna, if you are ever in need of anything please do not hesitate to call upon God first and foremost, and you can call/email me. Eugene loved all of you so very much. So please live in the comfort that he has been called home to expand his work with the Lord, keep all of you safe, and to look over all of you. Romans 8:28: "We know that in everything God works for good with those who love him".
Be Blessed!*

“ Deborah, Matthew and Family:
Gene will be greatly missed. However, God wanted His good and faithful servant and soldier in the Army of Our Lord to come home. I remember when you and Gene first fell in Love when we worked in FMS. I attended the wedding and now the funeral. What a great man I knew of 20 years who did his Best to follow the word of God. He brought laughter and told the truth when I needed it most. I loved Gene dearly for his honesty, sincerity and strong belief in God and Jesus as his Savior. There will be a void in my life but I am thankful for the spiritual talks we shared. Deborah, Matthew and Family, keep up the work of the Lord and have comfort in knowing that Gene is at peace forever.##imported-begin##Angela Hamilton-Howard##imported-end##

“ I am so sorry I wasn't able to be there for the service. I have worked with Gene on and off for over 13 years and feel truly blessed for being able to have counted him as a friend. I have many wonderful memories of chats with him and I will miss him a great deal. His greatest pride was in his family and he always spoke of you with much love. He will always live on in my heart.##imported-begin##Peggy VanSickle##imported-end##

“ Brother Eugene was like a big brother, mentor, spiritual advisor, and friend...always steadfast in the faith, uplifting, and uncompromising. He never hesitated to share his restoration testimony. He constantly expressed his love and appreciation for his family and he always shared a sincere thankfulness for how God had truly blessed and extended his life. May the Lord extend His comfort and heal your heart as you grieve this loss. In deepest sympathy, Carla R. Williams###imported-begin##Carla R. Williams###imported-end##

“ *Deborah, I know that God is with you at this time, as He has always been throughout this trying period. I remember Rev. Daniels when he first came to Corinthian. I remember him saying that if he wanted to be with you, he had to come to church. At that time, God was preparing him for what was to come, Rev. Daniels' call to the ministry. I remember the fun times when we all sang together in the Adult Choir. I remember your marriage and later Matt's birth. Rev. Daniels loved you both very much. He always spoke so prideful of Matt, and of your ministry. I admired how much he supported you in your ministry as much as you supported him in his. I know that you and Matt are going to miss him. I am going to miss him and his gift of teaching and prayer. You know that we have another Comforter in the Holy Spirit, and that He will bring you peace. You, Matt and your family have been in my prayers for the past year, and I will continue to pray for your strength. I send my love also to you and Matt. “ As I fondly recall many of the conversations that I have had with Eugene Daniels over the years, I can honestly say that he had the type of personality and disposition that would let everyone know that he put God first in his life. While he had no problem letting people know just what was on his mind, he had a way with words that would let people know not to mess with him. God first, family second, and God would take care of everything else. I knew that Eugene was struggling with his health and relying on God to get him through the really tough days. I know that the struggle was hard, but he never even thought about giving up. He put his trust in God, knowing that He would lead the way.

To the family, Eugene is home now, with the Lord. I know that he made his peace. Remember the many good times that you shared together, how he made you laugh, and how he enjoyed being there for others. Think about how much you know he loves you, and how he wants you to be happy and not sad. It's OK to cry now. Trust in God that it will get easier as time passes. You will get to a point where you smile every time you think about him and the good times and the many good memories you have. Hold on to that and God will see you through this painful time.

I have known Eugene for many years, we have worked together, and I have even worked for him for a short time, however, I will always consider him to be a friend as I treasure our kinship in our belief in God.

God Bless the family, I will keep you in my prayers.##imported-begin##Anita E. Hampton##imported-end##

“ Brother Eugene was a connector here at TACOM. He connected people with prayer and people to prayer; he will be sorely missed. He was never too busy at work or at church to offer words of encouragement, or to see situations from different perspectives that you walked away from him feeling better....

May God bless you, Matthew and your entire family during this time of bereavement. I am truly saddened by his departure, but I am overwhelmingly filled with joy knowing that Eugene loved the LORD...

“ To the Daniels Family,

Mr. Daniels was a warm and loving individual and he had a caring heart. Find comfort in knowing that he was a man of God and he did not have a problem letting others know that Jesus saves! Debra, he truly loved you and Matthew, you were his reason for living.

Mr. Daniels will truly be missed by me. We used to talk for hours about Jesus and how, as children of God, we sometimes have to endure heartships, but to be of good cheer, for Jesus, is a friend to the end.

I am confident in stating that he is safe in the arms of Jesus, for he truly loved the Lord and he did not let the rocks cry out in his place.
