“ Rob,

*I'm so sorry it has been awhile since I visited you here. Although I don't visit that often. I continue to remember and think about you. I been going thru a lot. Wishing you were here sometimes to tell me don't worry everything is gone be okay. Can you believe I'm actually tired of working. No I don't have it in me to work 7 days a week from open to close anymore. I guess my age is catching up to me now. You know you would think after soon to be 8 years the absences of you and your beautiful humorous personality would get easier. But it haven't. Rib I gone let you get back to Rip . Just wanted you to know I haven't stop thinking of you. Love and miss you Rip baby.

“ Rob,

Been have few crazy days and plus I haven't been feeling week. I just realized yesterday was year number 7 you have been gone. I miss you everyday there is not a day that goes by that you and our memories don't enter my thoughts. It really don't seem like it has been 7 years it seems it was just a couple years ago we were enjoying each other company. I'm not gone stay long I just wanted to drop in and share that you are still missed and loved. Rip Love you until we meet again

“ Rob,

I know it has been a minutes. I just woke up @ 1:30 in the a.m. and my thoughts instantly went to you. My birthday is coming up and it will soon be 7 years since your death. Sometimes it don't feel as though you have been gone that long and at other times it feels like you have been gone a life time. Either way I have and never will stop missing you. I miss our nightly phone conversations and our visits with each other. I often wonder what would life be like if you were still here. I'm not gone stay long I just wanted and needed both you and the world to know my love still haven't stopped for you. I miss you so much every day😭. Continue to Rlp . I still love me some you

“ Rob,

Wow it has been awhile! Up @ 1 a.m. for no apparent reason listening to music. And one particular song came on and instantly visions and memories popped in my head. Oh my God and it just hit me that you have really been gone soon to be 6 yrs. I know I don't drop in as much as I used too. But I never have nor will I ever forget you or memories we created. Nothing has change with me all I still do is work. With nothing to do on the weekends since you left me. I'm not gone stay long just wanted to let it be known I still think about you constantly. Continue to RIP my love. Love you always and forever your "Superstar"

But after getting off work I made it a point to have one of your favorite drinks on your honor of you for your birthday. I know I don't drop in as often as I used too. But nothing has change I missed the times you and I used to just hang out and chill watching the news like an old married couple. Rip baby you are gone but you or the memories we created has and never will be forgotten. 🥺*

“ Rob,

I know it has been an whirlwind le. Just wanted to share that I have gotten another job more on the government side. I'm loving this Monday thru Friday all holidays Christmas Eve New Year's Eve and the day after Thanksgiving. All government holidays off. Even Juneteenth 😊. All good things coming me to those that way. I know if you was still with me you would love this job as much as I do. The only thing I don't like is there is no overtime. But I will take that great pay and even better benefits. I just still miss you and wish that you were here to share my accomplishments with me. I know I don't write like I used to but just know you cross my mind and thought each and everyday. Rip Mr Portis gone but not forgotten. I love me some you still to this day

“ Hello Mr. Portis,

You have been on my mind for a couple days. I been thinking about us back in the day and how we always remind friends with benefits no matter what other people thought about us. Really, didn't no one ever know that we will always LOVE each others from the bottom of our hearts.

I stopped by just to thank you once again for BLESSING ME with the winning of the lottery. Yes, Mr. Portis your birthday came out once again and yes I caught it once again for a larger amount this time. Thank you Babe. Wish you were here so I could share my winnings with you or treat you to dinner. I am going to go on The Craft real soon cause my Little/Brother is coming into Town (you know who he is) 😂 I hope to see Wimbush and his family.

Continue to rest, I will talk to you again soon.

Thank you again. I miss you and love you do much.

“ Travis,

I just wanted to let you know that you are truly missed by me and your best friend Wimbush. Yes, he looked me up on Social Media. We talked about you and I let him know that I was very disappointed with him for not trying to find me to let me know you had passed away. Wimbush, knew exactly how much we meant to each other back in the day. He told me that he did ask the neighborhood and my cousins if they knew where I was located. Of course people didn't know where I lived. Lol!!!! I told Wimbush, if he ever have to get in touch with me for anything call or ask my big brother Stone. He will find me cause we still keep in touch. You really broke your best friend heart...,he took this really hard and still grieving. Well Sweetheart, I just want to stop by and say hello and you are missed by many. Until we meet again! I will Always cherish the good and bad times we shared in my heart. Continue to Rest. Love your Best Friend. ❤️😘😭💔 My son had a great birthday and Christmas.

“ Rob,

It's me I feel as though I have been neglecting you. And that is not the case. I have been working alot lately. Help out of town at other jail facilities they are short at. You know I'm always gone secure my bag. And plus, its Christmas time you know I love spoiling my grandbabies for Christmas. LOL! You would be having a blast teasing me about the wicked witch. Yeah, my dad is doing the unthinkable in about 2 weeks marrying the wicked witch. Of course, I was the last one to know. But i have voiced my take on marrying her. And he had the audacity to ask if I was coming that mess. I almost forgot he was my dad, but I simply said no. You would be really proud of me. So much for that just wanted to drop in and let it be known I still think of you every day. RIP baby. Love LaTanga.

You know I have start doing what I love to do doing my online shopping for my grandbabies for Christmas. And yes Rob I'm gone stay in the granny lane. I hear you preaching to me now. Not that it did any good. I can hear you now "Baby you just the granny" That may be true, but I definitely didn't and still don't spend my money like I'm just the granny. I get Christmas lists. “ You Never Said Goodbye

*You never said I'm leaving,
You never said goodbye.
You were gone before I knew it,
And only God knew why.
A million times I needed you,
A million times I cried.
If love alone could have saved you,
You never would have died.
In life I loved you dearly,
In death I love you still.
In my heart you hold a place,
That no one could ever fill.
It broke my heart to lose you,
But you didn't go alone
For part of me went with you,
The day God took you home.

“ Rob,

Up with nothing to do. I picked up my phone and there was your handsome face. Making me realize another year had passed without your words pf encouragement and the love I always felt with you. I miss you so much!. I have came to terms that you have left the world you and O was creating together. Although I have come to terms it does not get any easy mentally. You already know I'm going above and beyond with this Christmas shopping. Boxes are everywhere in my livingroom. I'm hoping to maybe go thru the boxes this weekend and start wrapping gifts. And there is nothing for me in any of the boxes. As long as my babies are happy on Christmas morning. Of course it gets harder every year to shop for them because I have already bought them almost any and everything a kid can have. I will drop back in on you next week. I still love me some you. Mr Portis RIP baby you are gone but never will be forgotren.

I worked this weekend at another facility. And I just realize I didn't make my presence felt this weekend. I had to stop what I was doing and let you know my love for you is as great as it was 3 years ago. You know the months of Oct-Nov has always been my favorite months of tbe year. But it seems you and I spent alot. Of rainy day together jus enjoying each other company and conversations. I miss those days so much. As the saying goes you cant and dont appreciate anything until its gone. I'm not gone stay long. Just wanted you know I still live and miss you. Rip baby!

It has been awhile. Not that I haven't tried weekly to write you. So I had my surgery it was a success they removed. Lusters of lipoma tumors weighing over 6 lbs and averaging the size of a basketball. Thanking God there was no cancerous cells. I talked to your sister a few weeks ago. It seems she is really loving her new environment. Rob there us no reason to say how much I still miss you. This empty feeling just wont go away. And yes it still find it in my heart to remain loving you. I know it has been awhile but its late. I promise I will be back. Rip baby gone but not forgotten.

“ Rob,

So I remember when I was considering surgery when you was alive. You pointed out I was older and that you and I would have to discuss it. Now I see why. I was scheduled for surgery Thursday yes a day after my birthday. It was cancelled 2 days prior to surgery . So my blood pressure meds were increased. Now I'm told my iron is extremely low. And I have to have 2 iron infusions to be optimized for surgery. At this point I almost want to say forget this surgery. Its just too much. Be again I am requesting you spiritual presences at my bed side. Sept 29th. Im not gone stay ling. It's has been a rough few days. I been doubling up at work. Been feeling awful for the last 3-4 days. I keep putting off going to the ER. Because I simply do not feel like sitting at the hospital for hours. I keep saying I think I have what I had when my weekend with you turned into over a week. Ironically on my Facebook memories popped up 3 years ago when I was in Oak Park sick. One thing I can say you were an awesome nurse. I really wish I had you here now. I need some of that Rob attention. You put everything and everybody on hold for me. Even though I was SO sick I enjoyed the comfort of simply being with you. Funny how we made the best of an 3.5 hour distant relationship. Although when driving I would be so anxious to see you it seemed like a 30 hour drive. One thing I could always count on was seeing your handsome face outside eagerly awaiting my arrival. Rob I knew deeply I had begin to care for you in a way that I never thought I could or would care for a man again after my relationship. It soon after you death that I realize that I was in fact in love with you and 2 years later I still in love with you. Although we were so different me being the country girl and you being the city boy yet we had so much in common especially the love we had for each other. Yeah I know people have said and probably will continue to let you Rip. And maybe I should but right now 2 years later this is my peace of mind the way I choose to grieve over the man who stole my ❤️ and still have my ❤️. Its that time of the week again. My stress level is alot better than it was when I last dropped in on you. Kids SMH. A mother's work is never done when it even comes to our grown kids. Anyways I'm up looking crazy. I went it bed way to early. And of course I have to work the next few days all day. So I will be nodding at work torrow or nodding either way both are my favorite things to do. And of course it's raining I love listening to the rain hitting the roof. Rainy nights reminds me so much of my Robert Portis days. I wish heaven had a rewind button if so you and my mom most definitely would be a part of my everlasting life. “ Rob,

I'm a day late but no I haven't forgotten about you. Just been distracted today with the grandkids. So we have a new president. There is a God. No more Trump. But of course he is in denial. He so devastated he haven't gave a concession speech yet. So Lil James is down to 3 days. And yes he is still working his mama's nerves. I ask myself who created that spoil demanding child. I know you always thought that but you never voiced that. So what I'm gone do with myself now since I told you once he came home I was ready to relocate with you and start our lives together. My ❤️ is broken but till this day my everything belong to you and you only. I'm so upset I had saved messages you and I shared. When I felt I needed some Me Portis time I would reread our messages. But of course I broke another phone and lost our messages this time. Now I wished I had gotten them printed off. If I by chance get lucky I most definitely will be getting them printed. Baby again I'm so over COVID-19. We went to no cases at the jail to half the jail staff not the inmates testing positive. I think we can thank as you used to say "your " president for that. He came here campaigning and yes he had alot of supporters 🇺🇸 that attended and the number skyrocket. One of the hospitals as of yesterday had 154 care worker off who tested positive. IKR so who taking care of the patience. Unless I'm at work an be in the comfort of my home. So much for my rambling RIP baby gone but you will never be forgotten. There isn't a day that I don't think of you/us. I love you Mr Portis 😊❤️😊❤️

Trump came here yes to this little as you would have said country town campaigning with no mask.. And not only did the Covid case skyrocket at the jail but in Muskegon as well. Ironically it's more staff than inmates who have tested positive. SMH! So now you know I'm getting scared I don't do well with anything pertaining to my lungs now. I was on Facebook this morning and out nowhere my favorite male artist songs start playing. Yes baby Keith Sweat. As I was listening to his songs I couldn't help but to laugh because you swore all he did was cry, whine and beg. But you was willing to take me to concert to see him. Even allowed me to choose our seating. I thought to myself this man really love me he is willing to go see someone in concert he don't like. Oh by the way it's Saturday again and I'm home with nothing to do. Lil James is down to 11 days and let me tell you he has worked his mama's last nerve. I remember so we'll you were so upset with me. I still have the message you sent me I was reading that message the other day laughing I was like my baby was seriously mad at me. At that time I promise to never celebrate another birthday unless I was with you. A year later you left me no other choice but to celebrate with you. September is a bitter sweet month for me. Exactly 2 years ago I arrived in Detroit to spend what was now the last weekend we shared together. Life is so unpredictable. I was so happy and content with what you and I created . I guess I took what we had for granted. You and I had agreed on a forever relationship . So I truly believed there would be an you an I forever. Physically you are gone but spirituallly heart still belong to you and you only. Nothing has or never will change that. I'm still giving you a 1000% of me as I always said I would. You may not been perfect in the eyes of others. But you were perfect in my eyes. managed to see pass you your past and flaws. And accept and fall in love with that Robert you presented to me. Of course I have another birthday coming up again that I will have to spend without you. With 6 days off . SMH! With nothing to do. Morning baby. It's almost 4:30 in the morning. And I know I should be sleep unfortunately I chose to work this weekend. Silly me huh. I have had an eventful week I have been working thru the day a been had 5 of the grandkids at night 🙏. Baby you know I love my grandbabies but I want and need to love them when they at their mom house. Lol! those kids had me drinking wine straight out the bottles. I grab an card to send to Barbara she has been on my mind. I always keep in mind how important both her and your mothers's well being was. So the world is still being tormented by COVID-19. As nerve racking as my grand babies are I told their moms it is a must they participate in the virtual learning. I truly scared for them to go in the classrooms. Rob I'm so sick at wearing a mask. Lol I was thinking the other day what your verbal thoughts would be for constantly wearing the masks daily. I just looked at the clock I thought about this would be the time of morning we would say I first good mornings and our first I love you'd of the day. Because it was a must that I call you on my way out the door to work. I used to feel guilty for calling you but, if I didn't I would never hear the end of it. I would do anything to be able to make that call to you. I never removed "My Boo" or number from my contact. As I have never and never will remove you from my heart. Rip my love. Baby I miss you so much. It has been a stressful week. Quan tested positive for Covid-19. So now we all are on a 14 day lockdown. Don't get me wrong I appreciate the 2 week pay. But I'm not liking this being in the house. But I'm abiding to the rules because I'm not trying to miss up my Covid-19 pay. Quan is doing well although he was very sick last week. I'm just thankful he came and asked me to take him to the ER. He was scared and so was I. kept asked my God to not him test positive. Because alot of people who test positive have had devastating results. I'm just thankful my son was given a second chance. His birthday was Monday. So he spent his 26th birthday with his mom sister and 2 nephews. Some birthday huh? This outbreak is really scary. I just keep praying. Keeping everyone in your family in my prayers. This virus seems to be really bad over there. Then of course I worry about Lil James he is literally down to 7 months. I just hope God keep protecting my baby. With all that is going on I still find it in my heart to miss and love you. It has been almost 2 years since your passing. It is now 3 in the morning. I have to be up for work shortly. So it most definitely will be a long day. I was at the ER with DiQuan from 9 p.m. until 1:30 a.m. Let him tell it he is grown. But these last few days he has been a clingy 25 year old mamma baby. He been sick a few days but you know kids don't want to listen. But, this Corona virus has been hitting so close to home it scared him. Thank God he wasn't diagnose with that virus. But he do have pneumoniae so he has to be very careful. To be honest I was very worried about him. Just praising and thanking God because things could have been alot worst. It just amazing that even after death almost 2 years later you still have an impact on so many people. That only proves you were and still is the man I grew to love. So I'm excited my boss emailed me and advised me to be expecting an email from her bosses in regards to some incentives to myself and my staff for being essential Frontline workers. I was thinking about both you and my mom. The 2 of you would be having a fit about me still working during this crisis. I can hear my mom that job ain't worth risking your health and life. And don't worry about your bills. And I can't really say what you would say but it would be on the lines of you can't come see me but you can go to that county jail. And then you would go on to say quit that job we will figure something out your bills will get paid. Well, my love I'm gone try to get some sleep. I was thinking about one of our weekends we shared and decide to let you know nothing has or never will change. Love you 🥰👍🥰👍 Rip my handsome man

“ Morning,

OMG Rob this Coronavirus really do seem like something you would really see in a movie. I called and check on Barbara and your mom yesterday. The virus seems to in the Detroit area really bad. Asuch as I love you and enjoyed spending time with you tight about now our visits would be few and very scarce. I thinking my yearly vacation to Arkansas will probably not be happening in May. I most definitely will be going later on. Especially since my dad had this bypass surgery. I actually have the weekend off this week. And I am so happy. It's raining. My favorite type of days. Days we always seemed to have gotten when we were together. LI have been enjoying my no babysitting. Lol! When I get home everyday I lock myself in my room. And have been loving going to bed when I want don't have to get up late at night to drop or pick nobody up. Well baby I'm not gone keep you long. Rip my love you are gone but never and never will be forgotten

“ Rob,

Last week I wrote nearly everyday. And now when I'm suppose to do my weekly letter. I was too exhausted to write. Barb called me tonight she remembered Marri was scheduled for surgery. She called to check on him. He really earned a spot in her heart. OMG Rob this Coronavirus is getting crazy. To be honest it's beginning to get .scary. And it's beginning to get stressful at work. I had to do another write that's the part of my job I dislike. I'm not gone stay long because I'm just a little tired. But I had to make my presences known. I love and miss you baby now and forever more. Rip Baby

“ Rob,

I know I'm dropping in more and more. I talked to Barbara a few nights ago. She stated how much she missed you . I told her I miss you so much and express it daily. She mentioned how much you cared for me. She stated that you were actually making changing. Positive changes after meeting me. She said you willing and ready to give up something's in your life for me/us. Although you repeatedly told me how much you cared about me. Hearing it from Barbara just sounding so reassuring. She just helped confirmed what I already knew I know that the two of you had a special sister and brother bond. I asked about your mom she said she was doing okay. That was nice to hear. I remember a few months before your death. Your mom took sick. You was so worried about her. And almost 2 years later your mom is still here living and well. So my dad got discharged today. With some dietary restrictions of course. He is not happy about having to give up caffeinated coffee bacon and eggs. Man baby this Coronavirus is serious. Now I'm on 24 hour standby. And if needed I'm preparing and ready to make 24 hours living arrangements @ Muskegon County Jail. I know you are frowning and not happy to hear that. This most definitely would be a hot topic for discussion. But that come with the Supervisor's job. Anyways Rip my handsome man good ne but never or never will be forgotten. You have spot in my heart forever. Love you Robert.

“ Rob,

I know I have wrote you like 3 or 4 times this week. But who is actually counting. Baby, they pretty much have the whole country shut down due to this Corona virus. You would be up now watching the news emmensely. Reporting everything to me. I here you now telling me you don't think I need to go to work. And of course everything is shut down except field of work. Although you would be so happy I only do my 40 a week not 80 a week. Now don't get wrong I do miss those 80 a week checks. Now I have this extra time and most weekends off I do miss sharing that time with you. OMG Rob I must get to Detroit soon of course after this Corona virus blows over. I am so in need of some Sharamas from Bucharest. I'm not even sure what street we would go because I would just be riding when you drive but goggle has never failed me. I found a Captain Jay's in Grand Rapids so I have had that. Baby can you believe the NBA has been shut down too because of the virus. That would have been nice at least I wouldn't have to compete with a basketball. But you always made it a point to call every commercial and half time. You know to this day I try not to question God and his work. But I wonder what was the purpose of wasting 23 years with an underserving man and then brought you into world for a short 2 years. Robert,. you know I mean business when I call you Robert. I love you now and forever more until you and meet again. Rip baby!

Of course my son got sick with a really bad cold so he thought it was best he didn't go and compromise my dad's immune system. So that left only that girlfriend to go with him. Now there is no need to remind you how I feel about her. I did ask my son to let her know I appreciate her being with my dad today. Baby I feel like a bad child not being there with my dad today. My heart is aching and so heavy. Your voice and arms would be so soothing now. I really mad truly still man the world's best advisor. I rember when she and I crossed paths for the first time. And you talked me to my senses from Michigan to Arkansas. Although you foudnd alot of humor in the situation. Rob will I ever stop thinking of you and I. I know it's not my day. But honestly do I have to have an appt ntment? I Was on Facebook. And ran across a post Darrell post on Facebook and my eyes instantly filled with tears. He didn't post anything pertaining to you or I. I never before realize how much the two of you look alike until after your death. . At times it gets scary to see the likeness of you two. His name really should have been Robert Jr. I really need to get a life outside of work. I sit and wonder what if all the time and what would. I know it's unhealthy because it has been a year in a half. Believe it or not I still have the one special gift you hand picked especially for me.

*I remember my last visit I was gone leave it at your house so I would have access to it when visiting you. And you insisted you purchased it for me and I should take it with me 😊. I'm so happy I did because that gift was a very important part of our relationship.
I'm worried about my dad. He is scheduled for surgery on Thursday.
He asked me not to worry. But how can I not worry about him.
Technical besides my kids my dad is all I have. Yeah I have my aunts and cousins. But losing my mom, my uncle and then you. It seems my world crumbled. Your death really hit hard because it was so uninspected. Anyways baby I just need a minute of venting. You and your ear and voice had always been available to me when I needed it the most. I truly miss my man my biggest supporter my best friend and my confidant. I keep reciting one of my favorite text messages from you that stated there was no you with out me. Baby there is no me without you 😭. RIP my prince charming 💜. I love you Got caught up watching t.v. last night and forgot my weekly duties which was to write you and remind you how much I still love you and that I haven't and never will stop loving you. October is my favorite month of the year. The rain is so relaxing. I'm adjusting to my new job at work. It's a great learning experience one I plan on achieving. I know you and my mom got my back watching over me. And directing me in the right direction. I'm not gone keep you long. I just wanted to blessed you with my presences. To ensure you I'm still you # 1 girl. Rip gone but never forgotten. I still love you past the moon and back.

“ Morning,

No it's my normal day. I don't know I been all my feelings the last few days. Not sure if it's the rain or what. Whatever it is I just wished I had your arms to escape too. I need somebody to talk to somebody who gone hear me out and tell me what I need to hear rather I want to hear it or not. In this case what I need to say. You and my kids have always said I was to laid back and nice. I don't know the 50 mark seemed to have changed alot of that. As you used to say I have 0 tolerances for alot of things now. I don't like being like that either. But at times the wrong buttons get pushed by the wrong person. I guess the best thing is to eliminate toxic people from my life. And that's what I have did and done. Well, so much for venting. TTYL my love. Nothing has or never will change as far as my love for you.

Morning baby. I tried writing you early this morning. But I don't know where my glasses are. And nothing has changed I still can't see. Anyways I was laying here yes Rob I still be on Facebook. But a picture of you and I that I posted popped up from a year ago. You know I have the weekend off. This most definitely would have been a Robert La'Tanga weekend. I missed those days so much. So it is official I have started my new position. It's been a little hectic because the supervUser before me literally left a mess for whomever to clean-up. And unfortunately that somebody is me. But I have confidence in myself to get the job done . Beside I have the best angels on my side you and my mom. Baby I slept till 12 today that don't happen ever. Besides when you and I was together. I felt like I was always on vacation when I was with you. You would just always let me relax and spoil and pamper me. I do miss those days so much. No need to tell you how much I miss this week. Nothing has changed in year and nothing will ever change Well, RIP my love. I still love me some you.

I been trying to write you all day. As I remember year ago today I was trying to emotionally to prepare myself to say my final good byes to you 😞😞. OMG Rob this pain in my ❤️ just won't go away I miss you like you wouldn't believe. I will never forget you and what we had 😍. And I do and shall always remain loving you. I just want back so bad what you and I shared. I can't believe it's has really been an year since you been gone. I know you would be so happy with my promotion at my job. I just need and want you to keep an watchful eye on me and over me so I can I will be successful in this new journey that's ahead of me. I know I would have your support if you was alive. I shouldn't said that because I truly believe you are with me spiritually everyday of my life. From time to time I notice a sequence of song would play with what seems like hidden message that is for me and only me to understand. I also noticed if there is something I would say or do that you would disagree with you picture lights up on my phone and you give me a deep glare looking like you saying "Really Ms Black". 😊 I feel like there has been a situation I have been thrown in for a test 😞. But, Mr Portis I believe I passed that test as well 😊. Nothing change I am still loyal to you and to you only. My ❤️ belong to you when you was here and my ❤️ still belong to you and only. Well RIP my handsome "King". Until the next time I love me some you Mr Portis 😞😞

Oh my God I feel I have neglected you. I was so busy the weekend for my party. And I must say the only thing was miss was you and my mom. My Aunt did an memorial table in honor of you and my mom. She had the hall beautiful. But that table was my favorite. It was not fancy but it represented 2 of my favorite angels. Baby I over did and done it I couldn't move until around 4;30 yesterday.. It's a few days over an year since you have been gone but it feels like yesterday. I miss you so much. Oh I almost forgot I did get that promotion @ the jail . Food Service Kitchen manager is my new job title. I'm living this no weekends, 9 to 5, no holidays and 4 more an hour. I know you would be so happy with this. I wish you were to celebrate with me. You know I got to share some pics if my party on your wall. I was talking about this party long before your death. Anyway RIP baby you are gone and you will never be forgotten. My heart áche for you everyday and the live I had and have is here to stay I love you baby. RIP. I had to share the memories with you. I felt like the "Superstar" you always referred to me as. I had an interview today to managed the the facility I'm at. And I know I would totally have your approval. It's 9-5 no weekends, no holidays and 4 dollars more an hour. I can hear you now you might as well come here every weekend ☐ Rob I'm trying so hard to let go. But, it is really hard I feel like I'm gone wake up from a year long dream. And we gone pick up where we left off at. I know you and I would have had a blast this weekend for my birthday. Of course you and I always had fun when we were together. At least I will be at work all day tomorrow. So I won't have time to be depressed. Rip baby 💔😭😭 I miss I love you so much. What was not to love about you. My ❤️ belong to you still even after death.

“ Morning,

I had an eventful day yesterday. My truck stop on my way to Baby Quan's party. So at least $300 dollars later I'm riding again. Seems like when it rain it pours. Getting my truck fixed wasn't part of the plan. That's cutting into my birthday money. Anyway I'm currently down to 1 week for my party. As that time gets near I realize it will soon be 1 year since you left. I remember hearing the saying "time flys when you are having fun". Time has flew by but it have not been fun this last year without you in my life. A year later without you I am still loyal to you and our wonderful memories. I am so dreading September 10th. I have so many unanswered questions. That you and only you can answer. I think I just need some closure so I can let you Rip but never be forgotten. You are and will forever be in my 💕. You stole that 3 years ago and have never lost it. A man approached me and had to let him know I'm in love with a deceased man and my heart has always belonged to him and him only since I first meeting. You see baby nothing has changed. Lately I have been really missing both you and my mom. The woman who gave me life is no longer here to celebrate our day. And the man I had planned on sharing my life with forever is no longer here. I love and miss you both so much. 😭😭. Well baby I must go I have to prepare myself mentally for these 2 doubles I am about to work. Rip my handsome man I miss and love you and you only.

I'm gone try the # I have for Magic I would love for him to come share my birthday with me in your absences. And I know you would approve. We all met at the same time. 😞 Rob in about 11 days will make a year since you unexpectedly left the world that you and I shared . This really still seems so unreal. I do miss our times together. When we were together nothing or no one mattered. This morning I am preparing to go see Lil James if you were still alive I most definitely would be were I learned to love being which was with you. We would be still up laughing and talking until I turned on my on my right side. Lol! then we both I would be out like a light soon. I'm still hoping I will wake from this bad dream soon. No such luck. I had my first consultation yesterday for that surgery that you were and probanly is totally against. I think and hope ev Everything will good good. I realize its gone take some dedication and determination on my paet. I have an awesome support team. I'm svchedule for the first procedure December 13. I know if you could you would be right by my side doing what you did so well holding my hamd. I'm gone need you in there spirtually watching over me. I was going in a drawer the other day some of my things that was at your house still has that Robert Portis aroma. I refuse to wear or wash those items. My cousin and I went out for dinner and drinks the other night. Of course I was talking about you and great times we shared. And a particular song came on tou liked and always tried singing. She must have seen the tears forming in my eyes she start consoling me. I excited about my party at the same time I feel guilty about celebrating a few days after your 1 year death anniversary. Jim Bo as you called him resurfaced. I clearly let it be known you are gone but my loyalty and heart still belong to you and you only. Rob that just wont stop. I love you and our memories more than I did a year ago. I'm gone let you rest my love until next time. “ Rob,

Yeah its me again. I don't know I have been missing you so much. I don't know if it is because it will be soon 1 year since you been gone. And the summer months is when we spent the most of our time together because I didn't do and still don't do the winter months on the highway. Buy you had no problem boarding that Greyhound coming to Muskegon. The first time you came I was like this man really do like me riding what should be a 3 hour car drive on that bus for 5 1/2 hours. As the time gets closer for my birthday I find myself thinking about you more and keep asking the question why 😭. September will be a bitter sweet birthday for me. My birthday has been heartbreaking not once but twice. I chose to marry the wrong man on my birthday 😭 and I lost who I felt was the perfect man 4 days before my birthday. 😭 I talked to Barbara the other day as always hearing her and your moms voice is always conforing. Then always bring me back to the thought of you leaving me. Maybe one day I can get used to life without you. And no we didn't see each other everyday. But at least when I felt I needed me some MEH time with you Mr Portis time I could and would get on that highway. I resent sometimes how and why we met. Because of the situation you were in when we met. Its unfortunately you didn't get to enjoy your last few years of life due to an unneccessary situation you was put in. But I think God sometimes you were put in that situation. Due to this fate as you say crossed our paths. And I do think God for bringing you into my life everyday for at least giving us the 2 1/2 years together. I was reading our text messages the other day I remebering one message in particular of you saying I was the best thing that enter your world in a long time. You always choose the right things to say whether it was letters, text message, phone calls or the one on one Robert and LaTanga time. Everybody keep saying it will get better. And there is some body out there for you. Baby I will be 50 next month as I used to tell you I getting to old to start over. It was you and I a year ago and today its you, me and the memories we shared. My ❤️ and soul still belong to you and you only. As you said we stuck together. Rip my handsome man until we meet again I love me some you.💕💕💕💕💕💕💕💕💕💕 It wont stop.

“ Robert,

I had said I was gone refrain from writing for awhile. My mind was and did say one thing but my heart totally led me to something different. I made a promise to you/us to continue to write on your tribute wall until I can no more. I was just thinking about my visit with you this time last year. I felt like crap the entire weekend wasn't much fun was just in bed miserable. But not once did you complain. I do appreciate the fact you made me go to the ER. I was alot sicker than I thought. A weekend visit turned to an week and a half visit. You was the best nurse a girl could ask for. I got spoiled I was put on bed rest and you made sure that I followed all doctors order. For a straight week you waited on me hand and foot. I felt guilt as though I was wearing my visit out. If I did you never showed it. You just kept saying even though I was sick you was just happy to have me there with you. Just think one month I was sick on your mercy. And exactly a month later you were gone. I often ask God why I wasn't given the opportunity to return the caring gesture of taking care of you as you did me. I just wish time could be rewind I still question if I had talked to you that night you called me if your fate could or would have been different. Again there I go questioning God's work. Rob I just miss you so much. I'm not sure why I even pay a phone bill now. I miss our all night or until I fall asleep phone calls. And i miss our visits with each other so much. Since your death if it aibt work an occassional store here and there. I'm homebody at my worse. I still repsect you and what we had. My ❤️ still belong to you and will always belong to you until our paths shall cross again. Rip baby!

I am Screaming all the way to Heaven Happy 51st Heavenly Birthday my friend and lover. 🎈🎂🎁📧. Yes I said it and you would say to me I am still younger than you. LOL!! It's been ten months since I seen you or talked to you since your passing.

You know it was very hard and still hard to this day since you left this earth. I was Shock to hear that you had passed on from your family, kids and friends. I miss talking to you and your 🙏.

We have a lot of history together that some people don't even realize. Yes my son is still playing football for his school and he is in the 10th grade. Yes my friend, time is passing by fast. Wish you were here to go see him play. But I know GOD had other plans for you up in Heaven. Believe me he has a lot of people helping him on his football journey even some NFL players he met at some of the Football Camps he visited with his big brothers. He did great. We will think about you at the Homecoming Game in November.

We my love I will let you continue to rest. Just wanted to say Happy Heavenly Birthday🎂🎈🎁. I miss you and I will always have this place in my ❤️ for you. Yes I am 😞.

Love you,

And then reality hit we will not be sharing the same space for this birthday forward ever again. Good thing I will be working all day on your birthday. I have been working a lot of overtime lately. Of course I'm liking that money but my body is not liking the wear and tear. No more as you used to say I'm not young anymore I can't do the things I used to 20 years ago. Rob I miss you so much even after almost a year. This pain and ache in my ❤️ just won't go away. Yeah I know it's almost a year later and I find it necessary to write you every week. Morning baby! I'm up for no apparent reason. Thinking and reminiscing about you of course. It seems like yesterday since I last heard your voice. It will be 10 months in a few days 😞 since I last heard you tell me you love me. I talked to Barbara and your mom Sunday. I guess I hadn't actually talked to your mom in awhile cause normally Barbara and I talk. But your mother seemed to been happy to hear from me. At the end of our conversation she told me she loved me. I really felt that was you speaking to me through your mom. Barbara was telling me Ava was asking during their visit when "Uncle Travis" was coming back. That brought tears to my eyes. And I was thinking I wish you could come back too. I'm just learning to take losing you one day at a time. I have accepted the fact you are gone and can never come back. But my memories and thoughts of you can and never will go away. With a stop in Kentuckey to visit your brother. We had discussed so many plans. But due to unforeseen circumstances those plans were short lived. I talked to Barbara a few days ago apparently her and Mrs Portis Mother's Day gifts were appreciated. I was just thinking how I used to constantly preach the fear of something happening to you. And how much me and your family would be hurt. And you always assured me everything would be okay. Life was good this time last year. Because you was a big part of it. I'm grateful and thankful for life I just wish I could have you back as a part of my life. Me one day we will cross paths again. Until that day I shall and will continue to love you baby. “ Morning baby,

I had to write and share so good news for a change. My current job has offered me an transfer here at Muskegon County Jail. I also got a call yesterday from the prison for an i terveiw. I'm excited about that but I'm not gone get my hopes up. I haven't shared the news with no one but you and Delechia. Finally I was able to go back home after almost an week of being stuck in an hotel room for 5 days. Baby I miss you so much!😭 I just don't think this hurt and empty feeling will ever go away. I think about you each and everyday. As I did when you were alive. I went to bed with you on my mind. I woke up with you on my mind. And nothing has change since your passing. I'm trying to prepare myself for my vacation to Arkansas in May. The vacation we had planned together. A few days in Arkansas and a few days visiting your brother in Kentucky. Any and all future plans we planned has been shattered. Why you leave me Rob? I can't get over what we had and shared together. "I truly loved me some you Mr Portis and I still love me some you".. Thisfeeling just wont stop. And I never want it to stop. I want to hold on to what you and I created in my heart for the rest of my life. Rip my love

“ Morning Baby,

Its me again. I been having a missing my mom and my man day. I really need the 2 of you. There is and have been so much going on. I'm beginning to find myself a breaking point. I am still displaced yeah I'm still in an hotel. And the sweet quiet La'Tanga is about to explode at any given time. I know baby I should have never given her my rent money until she did what needed to be done. Between you and my mom I would have an ear full right about now for paying rent. I would really be catching it from you. My aunt and my kids have repeatedly been voicing their feelings in regards to this. I can hear you now of course I can't say what your choice of words would be. LOL! That's why I loved you so much because you totally had no filter you have always said what needed to be said when it needed to be said from the first day I met you. LOL! The only time you didn't speak up is when it pertained to my kids or my grandkids. And I always appreciated the fact that you appreciated my relationship with and for my kids and grandkids. Even though some days I could hear it in your voice you weren't happy but you knew that would be a verbal confrontation you couldn't or wouldn't win. So Rob what will I do with myself this summer. For the last 2 years if I had 2 consecutive days off you and I spent those days together whether it was In Muskegon or Detriot. It literally seems since you left I have no life. All I do is work and sleep. Believe it or not I do not visit Wal Mart's as much now. I remember you always asking La'Tanga why you at Wal Marts weren't you just there the day before and the day before that. You even went as far as saying I think you got something going on with the greeter. I assured you then and I can assure you now you were the only man for me then and now. I miss you baby and that funny personality of yours you kept me laughing. Well, I guess I should be ending this since I am at work but I had to let you know you are and always is and always will be on my mind. I loved you 7 months ago and now that you are gone I find myself loving you even more. Love you! Rip my handsome king

“ Morning Baby

I had to write my weekly letter to you before work. Its gone be a long day. Actually it has been a long few days. During the little wind storm Thursday a tree decide to fall on my house and the neighbors house. So needless to say we jave been in a hotel the last few days. Carri is not feeling this hotel thing he claims he want to sleep in his own bed. But I just think he is missing playing his game. And I so frustrated with my landlord. She is or have made no effort to have this tree removed and Consumer energy will not reconnect services until the debri is removed. So she and I have been bumping heads. I was thinking I can hear you now calling me honest Abe always trying to do right. Because I did pay her my rent. SMH @ myself. Anyway love it time I get ready to go punch this clock for 16 hours. Rip baby I love you now and forever more.

“ Rob,

Hey baby I wasn't gone write this week I had sort of been in my feelings. But I replayed in my head what you used to always say to me don't start something if you aint gone keep doing it. And O have been writing you for 7 months every week. And I'm not gone stop now.

Just thinking I have the weekend off. This most definitely would have been a day I left work headed straight for you. I will be in that area tomorrow. I most lokely will stop and see Barbara and Mrs Portis. I had spoken to Darryl about he and I meeting up for lunch. I just hate the thought of being in the Detroit area and not enjoying you and your hospitality. You always did and done something to make my visits so enjoyable. I remembering you texting me once that you loved me for just being the person I was. The feeling was and still to this day is mutual. I must admit the devil try to intervene sometimes and try to destroy the memories I have of you. But guess what I will never allow nothing or no one to ever destroy my meomories of you. Smh thats all I have besides a few letters, cards pictures, gifts and text messages. So a rep from my the Human resources from my job called today and offered me an position in Muskegon at the county jail. You know I jumped on that right now I love my job but I hate the 30 minute conmute one way. Stop looking at me like that Robert. I know you never liked my choices for employment. You not here to hit the number so I can quit working. Rember that was our deal when you hit the number big enough so we could live comfortably I would quit my job. Unfortunately you no longer here so I got to continue working and yes my choice of earning a living just happen to be in the correctional field. Anyway my love I'm gone let you rest until the next time. I miss🥺you dearly and I love you now and foever more

“ Travis,

Today is April 3, yes you do know what day it is you right “ It’s my Birthday”🎁🎂🎈📧 This is the very first year that I will not get a call, card or see you with a big smile saying Happy Birthday Pre-Pre. Plus telling me you getting old and you older then me which I tell you every year “Only by 3 months and 3 weeks. It hurts my heart that I will not hear those words or see you anymore so I can have a smile on my face. But today I am smiling, because I know you and my sister Tammi are “Screaming Happy Birthday”🎂🎈🎁🎉🎊 to me.

Travis, it was a pleasure to know a Wonderful, Kindhearted, Caring, Handsome, Funny, Giving and Loving Man. We share a lot of memories together and I wish we would have had more memories to share together but God had other plans for his Angel. Our LOVE and FRIENDSHIP meant a lot to the both us some people just couldn’t understand why we were never married. “Lol” Leave it up to you and your BFF (Vincent) we were already married.

*I just wanted to let you know that I MISS YOU 😭 I LOVE YOU❤️
RIH my LOVE and my BFF💔*

Until we be again !! #Itsmy Birthday 🎂🎈🎁🎉📧💋

And that may not be a good thing holding this hurt in. I talk to you daily telling you how much I miss and love you. And I often ask why? 😞 I'm so use to having you to listen when I need an shoulder and an listening ear. It will soon be 7 months 😞. I just want and need to hear your voice. If heaven had visiting hours I would be there as often as possible. That's just wishful thinking. One day our paths will cross again and I promise we will pick right up where we left off at. Well my love I'm going yo let you Rip but as I rembering you telling me before. I could not close my eyes not letting you know how much I truly miss and love you even though you have been called to a better place. I love and miss you baby. 💖

“ Morning Rob,

I have to get up shortly for work my day off. But I could not go to work without fulfilling my weekly routine writing you. Its been a crazy busy week between work an other obligations. So Lechia is scheduled for a skin draft Tuesday. And she is terrified. So this more time off for her at work. So I'm asking you to watch over her for me. I was judt laying in bed thinking when you first visited me a my family gave you a round of applause and a standing ovation. Yeah they were very happy that I had found someone else and moved on. I just had the relationship my family and I was so hopeful gor was so short lived. But you and I made the best of it the time we were together there was never a dull moment when we were together. I really miss you, our endless phone calls, our frequent visits and our constant "I love you's." 🥺 Rob I remember telling you before the love I had for you was unexplainable. The emptiness I now feel in my heart💔 for you is unexplainable. This is an indescribable hurt. A pain I have never experienced before. When you left me I lost my lover, a confidant and my friend. 😭 So baby I'm gone let you rest up until next week. I miss and love you now and forever. Love you 💖

Please don't worry about me. I'm fine. Just still missing you 😞 So Im excited I have began to plan my 50th birthday celebration for this year. Unfortunately I will be making these plans with you. Another birthday with you 😞. I planning to extend an invite to my Portis family. Lechia is gone have to have a sjin draft ans she is scared she keep pondering on scheduling the procedure. You know Muskegon has no restaurants. Wgen I was in Grand Rapids testerday I stumble on a Captain Jays. That really brought back memories of us. That was always one of my favorite places to go before ending my visits with you. So much is going on I can hear you now "I told you so". But I know God will put no more on me than I can handle. But I'm gone end this let you rest up. Just wanted you to know you are still missed and loved 💕. Rip Baby 😞

“ Hey Baby

Just wanted to grace your wall with my presences. And let you know you are still in my heart and on my mind. Baby 6 months will be here soon since I heard your voice. 6 months is not a lifetime and it really dont feel like long. But this feeling. I have had since you left the world you and I created just wont leave. Writing on here brings me some comfort. I constantly replay in my head times we shared together and never-ending conversations we shared. And I will never forget lifer long plans we planned. I never thought those actual plans would or could end before officially starting. So I had to take Lechia back to Grand Rapids to the burn unit again rearranging my work schedule but you know me always making sacrificrs for others. Robert please stop looking at me like that and I can hear what you are thinking.

I'm fine baby. Needlessto say my baby got burned really baf. They are talking about possible skin drafts soon. Times like this I really be needing those broad shoulders of yours to lean on. And of course Joy is gone mow too. So I no longer have her shoulders either. But anyway my handsone man I'm gone let you get the rest that you was called for. But I am and always will continue to love you and never will stop loving you and that crooked smile and that humorous sense of humor of yours. I love you Rob Portis last year, last month, last week, yesterday, today , tomorrow until you and cross paths again. Rip my love

“ Hey Baby,

No I haven't or didn't and never will forget about you. I actually did start writing you last night and got a call and when I return to finishing writing you my letter was gone. I really wasn't sure if I sent it. So I was kinda of waiting to see if anything posted. I have had an eventful week Lechia got burned really bad a work. So you know me I been trying to work nurse her and take care of the kids. I worked a double today and working another one tomorrow. And my friend Joy's funeral was Wednesday. Please stop looking at me like that. I am not over doing it and my health is fine. I had to catch myself this morning as I was going outside to leave for work. I had pulled my phone out getting ready to call you. I guess routines are hard to break. I was talking to one of my co workers who is also a minister. I was telling her I try not to question God's work. But for the life of me I can't understand how and why he could let me waste 20 years with an awful unappreciative man in an unhealthy relationship with someone who did and done any and everything a man shouldn't do. And yes I often SMH @ myself for putting up with him and his shynagians. And then you came into my life and unfortunately I was only granted 2 years with who and what I thought was the perfect man. I'm not saying you had no flaws but you made me feel what it felt like to be loved and appreciated again. I miss our morning texts and I miss the many phone calls to just hear each other voice. Robert it will be 6 months in a few days since you left me but the pain hurt as much as it did when I got that awful call. I often ask myself will I ever get over this empty abandon feeling I have when I think of you/ us. I tell you everyday how much I miss and love you. Everybody say it will get better once I move on with someone else. Me and someone else that will never be. I'm gone let you get your rest. And I know you would be telling me to get my rest. I loved me some Mr Portis when you where alive and I still love me some you Mr Portis. Rip Baby until next time.

“ Morning Baby💕

I had to drop in for my weekly chat with you. So let me think what's new? My friend Joy died Wednesday. Which I'm sure you already know me knowing her she found you to introduce herself. She was happy I found happiness with you. She stayed on the phone with me many hours after your death. Joy was an kind hearted funny unfiltered person. I'm really hurt I had Tuesday off. Got up to go to the hospital to see her and had a flat tire. By the time I got my tire replaced. I got word she had been moved to Grand Rapids. I know they said things didn't look good but I was hoping to go to Grand Rapids to see her this weekend. A few years ago they gave up on her in Grand Rapids and she proved them wrong I guess I was hoping and praying for the same results. The month of February is not my favorite month. I was shocked Barbara called me late Wednesday night. I was sleep when she called and she apologized saying she forgot I was back at work. Not talking to her really bothered me it brought back memories of my LAST phone conversation with you. So I got up early the next morning and called her. I really love the fact your family still reach out to me even though you are gone physically. I told Barbara I like my new job but I hate the commute. I told her I can hear you telling "me to quit we figure something out your bills will get paid. You wouldnt drive in bad weather to see me why you driving in bad weather for a job". I miss you and that funny yet so serious sense of humor of yours. She said your mom is doing great. I was glad to hear that. Hopefully the weather start to get better so I can go see Lil James and my Portis family. When I see them I feel an connection with you. I talk to you everyday baby visualizing what your response would be. I often ask you why you lift me as you did. Everyone keep telling me I will find somebody else. And I tell them as I told you I'm too old to be starting new relationships. After meeting you I found and had who and what I wanted. And there can or never will be another Robert Portis. Rip my love!💕 I love you now and foever ! MISS YOU!

And it wasn't my driving I was fearful of it's the other people driving. I prayed all the way home and asked that you my mom and my uncle keep yall arms around me. I really felt that you were in the passenger seat keeping me safe. If you wasn't I was talking to you asking you to keep me safe. And of course I miss you talking to me on the phone as I travel to from work. I can't say exactly what you would have said on here but you most definitely would have told me to quit this job due to the drive in bad weather. I have been having really bad week of missing you. Someday are really worse than others. I try not to voice verbally how much I miss you. I don't want no one saying g you are all I talk about. But it really do help when I talk about you. “ Hey My Love,

Yes you are on my mind still. I had to write to share the news that I accepted and signed the job offer. I am now the newest member of Fillmore Correctional Facility. I start on Monday. Yeah yeah I can hear you fussing now cause it in the corrections field. Hey its a job and good money. As I said before I'm not happy about the drive I now have a 25 minute drive in good weather versus before I had a 10 minute drive. So you know now I'm really gone miss you. Because you always insisted I called you before going to my car to go to work. You we're my protector even though we were an 182 miles apart. And I know even though you are in Heaven and I'm on earth you will continue watcing over me and being my protector. I also had submitted an application here for the detention center which is closer to home and a little bit more money. But that one has to be posted until the 28th. So I'm hoping and praying for that one. Don't get me wrong you know I am and have always been about my money but I'm about my safety as well. Abd I don't like and don't do well in driving at night or when its snowing. I talked to Barbra yesterday she says her and Mrs Portis both are doing good.. I kinda think she be expecting my call from time to time. I'm glad you introduced me to and left me with awsome family. And for that I love you even more. You didn't know it was possible for me to love you more huh?😘 Oh my! Baby I just realize you been gone almost 5 months. It seems like a life time then it seem I just got the heartbreaking phone call yesterday. That phone call the call about my mom and my uncles death I will never forget. Three of the most influential people that has ever been apart of my life. All 3 of you had my best interest at heart. Was always an listening ear and always said what needed to be said regardless if I wanted to hear it or not. Didn't matter if I was right or wrong y'all always had my back. Small thing in life is not missed until they are gone. It will soon be Valentine's Day. Last year you spoiled me more than normal. I will never forget that. I was just thinking about my last visit to you when you made me than awsome breakfast of bacon eggs sausage toast grits and juice and served me in bed. I always smile when I think about the roses that you added for garnishment on my breakfast tray. You spoiled me you always catered to me. Well baby until next time you rest up. Because I'm sure I will have alot to share after my first week of work. Love you Mr. Portis

As I'm thinking of what to say my eyes are filling with tears. Its amazing how I had what I thought was the perfect world this time last year. And it seems like March of last year things started unraveling. And September 10 broke the mold when I got the most heartbreaking💔 phone call. I'm still hoping my phone ring and you say your are back. I dont know maybe. I need to get out from time to time and do something. Not that I'm trying or want to ever forget you. Things that maybe unimportant to someone else may mean the world too you. I haven't talked to Barbara and your mom since Christmas. So I probably will be doing that this weekend. It is only the 2nd of January but, I swear anything that could possibly went wrong in a few short hours did today. I'm just gone put a few things in the hand of the Lord and pray on a few things. SMH! I really miss you and need you. I know you wasn't a fan of facebook. But after your passing Daryl and I became friends on facebook. Anyway a few days ago he made a post that keeps playing back in my head. He was saying how sad he was basically that he had to leave you in 2018. I guess I never viewed your death as that. After reading that although you left me I felt so guilty at Mid night New Years Day.

I felt I was abandoning you in the year 2018. He also mentioned if only he had answered the phone when you called. That's something we have in common I did answer but feeling guilty that I didn't talk to you when you called. I just wish the hands of time could be rewind. I keep thinking if I had talked to you that you would still be here today. I know you are gone and I do realize you can never come back. But I can't stop missing or loving you. I find myself at times reading letters and cards you sent me. You were always a man of the most heartfilling words. Rip Mr Portis. “ Morning baby,

It will soon be a new year unfortunately I have to bring in the New Year without you. But I'm so ready for 2018 to be over. This has been an hell of a year. 2019 has to be better. So from my understanding the girls loved their gifts from Mrs LaTanga and PaPa Travis of course. Barbara and Mrs Portis also like their gifts. Shanae had text my phone when I was at your mom's. I picked my phone up Mrs. Portis seen your picture she was " like thats my baby". You still got a picture of him in your phone. Lol I had to correct her I "said thats our baby and I'm gone always have a picture of him in my phone." Rob it will soon be 4 months and it seems like a lifetime. I just feel so incomplete and lost without you. I often wonder how our lives would be if you were still here. You and our memories we created still cosume most and all my thoughts. So baby I'm not gone say Happy Heavenly New Year's. Because there is nothing joyous about bringing the New Year without you. I'm just gone say I will talk to you in 2019. Hopefully 2019 will be a better year even though you are no longer here. And of course I'm never gone stop missing or loving you until we cross paths again. Rip Rob and continue being my guardian angel. Love you

“ Morning Baby,

I try not to sound like a broken record. But I miss you so much. The last few days you are all I have been thinking about. I know it has only been a little over 3 months. But it seems like forever. Rob how am I going to overcome this emptiness I feel without you. Since I haven't been working it may help if I get out more. Yes I'm a homebody once again. Actually when I do get out I feel guilty being out without you. Because when I did get out or did anything I was with you. And no I still haven't got into the Christmas spirit as of now I still have did no shopping. I know time is winding down. Well baby I'm gone let you get your rest. Rip my love you are gone but will never be forgotten. I love you Robert now and forever.

“ Hey Baby,

It's not my day I normally write. But I'm having a ruff day today. I am missing you something terrible today. I got alot going on and you was always a dependable shoulder to lean on. Rob I feel I'm still trying to wake up from a bad dream. I know you are gone and I don't want to say I cant accept it. I'm just gone say I'm still in disbelief. As I'm writing you now my eyes are filling with tears. Some people say Ineed to let it and you go. But that will never happen. Until you live and witness losing a loved one you don't know how it feels. I love and loved my mom unconditionally. But I find it harder to deal with your death. I don't know maybe because it happened unexpectedly. You never mentally prepare for someone's death. But I was giving warning of my mother time so therefore I wasn't prepared but I was expecting it due to her battle with cancer. But you was taken away from me with no fair injunction. Please remember I never will stopping loving or missing you. As you said "we are in it for the long haul". You are gone and nothing has or never will change Mr Portis. Rest up baby and please keep a watchful eye on me and mines. Love you baby!

“ Morning baby,

Its time for our Saturday morning conversation. You already know how much I miss you. And I will never stop loving you. My Thanksgiving wasn't what I expected it to be. I had dinner at someone else house. Lets just say the meal wasn't up to my standards. Our plans was you and I would cook our first Thanksgiving dinner together at what would have been our home in Muskegon. And do Christmas with both our families in the Detriot area. I giess we made plans to prematurely. I guess I will be in the Detriot area still for Christmas eve and Christmas Day. Its gone feel funny without you because these are plans we discussed. But, you already know I will be going to see your family. And will be getting your 3 beautiful granddaughters something from PaPa Travis and Ms La' Tanga. Only doing what you would do you never wanted me to do it in the past. Talking about I had ny own grandkids to do for. You are gone now so I have yours to do for as well. I had yet another strange unexplainable dream. I don't know I feel there are hidden messages in these dreams I'm having from YOU. And I cant figure out the meaming. I dreamed we were at your funeral and when I went to veiw your body there where silver watches all over your upper body of different sizes. The kind of watches in the old days that be on the chains. I kept asking why were all these watches on you and no one knew why. And I woke up. Sounds baffling huh! I don't know these dreams I'm having has my mind rambling. I need a dream analyst or if you trying to tell me something to be more clear. I really been trying to contol my feelings of grieving for you. But these dreams I been having just having me doing more thinking about you. Well my love I'm gone let you get your rest until next week. Rip Mr. Portis I love me some you

“ Hello Baby,

I know it's not my day to write you. But I had a strange dream wgen I took a nap and I'm hoping me sharing this with you will help me figure out what it means. Okay I had been in Detriot. As soon as I get back home you called and say baby I'm back and I want to see you. For some reason my dad was at my house visitibg from Arkansas and he kept telling me it was to late to ride by myself. But I kept whining how important it was I go because we had been away from each other for months. Me being the daddy girl you always said I was finally agreed. For some reason why I don't know I left walking yeah right gone and laugh 🤪 I was on the other side of town when I realize I was walking. And I asked myself why I didn't drive my truck. I think I was so excited at the thought of seeibg you aluve again. I started back to get my truck for some reason I was lost I was lost in Mayberry as you say. No matter how hard I try to get to my truck I couldn't it was like I was walking in an endless circle. I kept calling telling you was on my way that I was trying to get to you. You told me baby hurry because I have to go back. After that I woke up in a cold sweat and in tears. Baby what does this dream mean what were trying to tell me. I know I need to let go but I'm not ready. Not yet at least. I love you Robert as muchh as I did when I first and last told you I love you. Rip my Love until next time.

“ Good morning Robert

Not a lot to say. I haven't had much of a productive week. You know I don't like the cold and hate the snow even more. So I have been doing what I do best being a homebody. I trying not to dwell on you absences so much. But it is so hard. I know its only been a little over 2 months since you been gone but , it seems like a lifetine. The old saying is "time heals everything". I truly don't believe theres a enough time to get over losing you. I know you wouldn't appreciate the fact that I sit around a mourn for you like I do. Its just my life was so perfect a year ago. And it just seems everything and anything has or have fallen apart. I guess nothing in life should be taken for granted. Even the small things. I still try not to question why God chose you after he brought so much joy into my life by bring you and I together. I found that it really helps to talk about you. Just mentioning your name brings me peace. I often think about conversations we shared. And akways think about the times we shared together. Later on I will share some projects I working on. Not until I see some progress because I know if you was here it would be impossible to get you approval but you would suppot me. When I mentioned this to you months ago you disapproved but did say we could discuss it. Lol but, you said most likely the answer would be no. Sorry I made the decision of doing of what I thought would be best for me and us if you was still here. Well, baby rest up until next week. Never forget I love you from now until

“ Morning Baby,

First of all I guess there is really no need to tell you how much I miss you. Because you should know. I was planning on visiting Lil James today you know I have to get that last visit in before winter really get here. I had talked to Barbara I was gone stop by and visit ger and Mrs Portis. But you know the weather in Muskegon tends to get bad. Barbara offered for me to stay there and I really appreciated the offer. But I just can't see myself staying there without you 😞. Maybe one day but, not now its just to soon. Hopefully the weather be better tomorrow and I make that trip. But you already jnow I will never be that close to your mom and Barbara and not visit if not for me most definitely for you. I know how important them and their well being was to you. I promise to always keep in contact with them. Because I know thats what you would want. My items of clothibg I retrieved from your room I refuse to wear they just sit in my drawer with your linger scent I so loved. Today makes exactly 60 days since God called for you presences to a better place. Rob Im really trying to cope and adjust at the thought of you being gone. I remember you always saying "you and I was in it for the long haul." You are gone baby and we still in it together. I was just reading our text messages and one of them stays in my mind that you sent which states " there is no me without you" Thats how I feel now I feel so incomplete. Its Saturday and I'm not working and if we had not been together physically we would have spent the entire day talking on the phone aimless about nothing but our future together as one. Acting like as you would say "High School Kids In Love" Oh! But by now if the Lord didn't have other plans you would had relocated to Muskegon by now. Spiritually you are with me baby 24 hours a day. I just wish you was here I do miss your listening ear and honest opinions and answers regardless if I wanted to hear it or not. Too bad we can't continue this relationship as we started it via phone calls and letters. You was always like my own personal Secretary reminding me of appointment and always reminded me of my Sunday 7:30 p.m. phone calls to my dad even since my moms death even if you and I was on the phobe you woukd end our call so I could call my dad. You was always considerate. Now you get the Saturday letters and I don't need no reminding . Im gone let you rest until next week of course. You are gone but I can't and never will forget you. I 💖 you with my everything Mr Portis💖

“ Rob💕,

Hey baby I'm having a rough day today actually I have had a rough few days. I am really missing you and my mom in a terrible way today. All I do is think of you/ us and what we had and what we were trying to accomplish. I don't know maybe once I'm physically able to go back to work things will get better. Sitting around everyday and all day is not me. So I have more time to sit and think. And of course most of my thoughts consume of you. This time last year life was good we were able to move in the direction with our relationship we wanted to go. I just keep asking why????😞. I guess I might have gotten to comfortable with the Robert Portis/La'Tanga Black thing. I didn't think nothing or no one could come between us and what we shared. I'm really trying to be opened mind and accept the unevitable that God had other plans for you. I am not and will not ever stop loving you Mr Portis. And will never forget you and what we shared. At least we created awesome memories together that I can't and won't ever forget💕. Well my love I'm gone let you RIP until next time. Love me some you 💕

“ Rob,

Hey baby I haven't wrote you in awhile. The other day I was in the middle of my bed surrounded by the many cards you ever gave me. Today I was putting clothes away and I ran across letters you had sent me. Glad you always dated them so I was able to put them in order. Reading them brought so many memories as far back as 2 years ago. I fell in love with you from words you wrote on paper. I try not to ponder on missing you as much lately. Although you are gone and never coming back. I try to accept what is no longer in our control. I just sit and think about the great conversations we shared and the awesome visits we had with each other. I beginning to realize you can't take small things in life for granted. I really and truly had it in my head as you said "we were in it for the long haul". When God brought you into my life I realize it was possible to love and live again. Something I hadn't done in many years. You gave me a reason to love and live again. Sometimes now I get this tingling sensation in my right hand when I'm talking or thinking about you. I have came to the conclusion that be you letting your presences be known. It kind of freaked me out at first but not now. Well I'm gone let you rest until next time. Love you Robert Portis

“ Rob,

I haven't been on here in a couple days. But I want you and whoever to know nothing has or will change in my feeling for you. I was beginning to let little things bother me. And I'm better than this back and forth stuff. Thankful and grateful my voice was the last voice you heard before God called you to his home. I was the last person you text and said good night too. Just wondering if you had a clone or twin brother. I was thinking today would have been a month since I seen or touched you. But on the other hand I'm trying figure out if I was in town visiting you Labor Day weekend and didn't leave until Tuesday how you managed to be other places. I been really upset. And a friend of mines advised me to not let small things that small minded people say or do destroy the love and memories you shared with Rob. As I said before me and no one else has been or was acknowledge as the significant other . Don't recall no one else but me offered to ride in FAMILY car as Travis girlfriend. Me and no one else but me sat with the family as an family member. Me and no one else but me was at repast dinner introduced as Travis girlfriend. I was told by family I was reached out too because everyone knew how much you cared about me. Yeah we had an long distance relationship didn't see each other as often as we liked. But that was gone change this month because you was gone be moving here with me. But we was on the phone every chance we got. As I said before writing on here brings me comfort. Now Everytime I want and need my me time with you it is something. As long as I truly believe you loved me and I know I loved you. And to be honest I can't say and I want say there was no one else besides me we were a 192 miles apart. All I know is whether I was in Oak Park with you or you here Muskegon with me. It was only and always only about me and no one else. You was the most caring passionate man. I remember I visited a couple weeks before Labor day. When I left Muskegon on Friday I wasnt feeling well but it was important to me to visit you and my son. I layed around for a couple of days with terrible chest pains you told me you were taking me to the hospital. You sat at the hospital for hours with me helping me walk go to the bathroom holding my hand rubbing on me telling me how much you love me. I end up being on bed rest for a day but you encouraged the Dr too make it 2 . You went and purchased my meds You waited on me hand and foot all meals in bed. Helped me shower and dress. Continued to do whatever you thought you could do to help me feel better. The day I was planning to leave coming home I still wasn't feeling well. I remember you telling me "you ain't going no where". I said well my family is expecting today. You got my phone called to Muskegon and told my family I was still in alot of pain and either you could ride to Muskegon with me or I was staying with you for as long as it takes to get better. So a weekend visit turned into over a week visit. That was the best week all you kept saying is I can used to waking up to you like this every morning. I will never forget you for that because I was so sick. If you hadn't made me get up and go when I did I would have been hospitalized. But that's not unusual you always as I said before treated me as the Queen or Star you refer to me as. You never liked the hours I had to get up for work every morning @4:20 you always insisted I called you before going out . You always said I might not be there but if I'm on the phone and something happened I could at least called the police or your daughter. I always felt so guilty for calling but If I didn't you would be upset. Lol! You hated my job but I constantly reminded you that's how we met. You would but like yeah we met now you can quit. I/we worked to hard to get were we where with our relationship. All the things I said above is just a few reasons I fell in love with you. And I'm not gone stop writing on here until as I said O.H. Pye press the REJECT button. Rob or (Travis) as your Detriot family/friends would say you are gone and got alot going on now but I still love you as much as I did when you were here. All I can do is believe there was no one else's but me. Rip Baby! I know it's hard cause it's alot going on.

“ Travis,

I cried when you passed away. I still cry til this day I can't hear your voice anymore, see you face even hug and kiss you again it's ❤️ broken. I love you dearly and I will always hold you close to my heart. God made a choice to take a good hearted, sweet, caring and loving man away from me and his family but God only take the best ones and grant the their angel wings. Words can't describe the pain I feel without you which I wish I had the chance to say Good bye or I Love You with a Hug and Kiss. I miss you a lot wish you were here with me. We have a history together and a lot of Love for each other. No one will never realize how much we love we have for each other and the plans we were making to be one and a family to our kids and grandkids. I miss you 😭 Rest in Heaven Travis. I Love You with all my heart. 💋

I have been in your life for years, I have been in your corner for years I been here in your life through all your ups and downs one thing I can't say we worked through everything and still remained to be together...The last time I seen you was on Labor Day where we was around my family having fun and enjoying each company.

I'm just doing all that I seem to do these days is think about you/us. I had began to questioned the love you repeatedly told me you had for me. Clearly someone is not please with what you and I shared and had. If there was anyone else why they waiting until now to make their presences known. You know me Im not gone entertain nonsense all I want to do is mourn for you the way I choose too. And writing on here brings me some comfort. I feel me and our relationship has really been disrepected . You always assured me there was no one but me and I trusted your word then and I trust your word now. Random conveniently edit familiar pictures are popping up. Like I didn't and don't know . I was reading our text messages couldn't help but to share on your tribute wall a very special message we shared. I'm not gone let nothing or no one discourage me for mourning and greiving for you. Baby until O.H. Pye III Furneral home reject my message too you I will continue to write on here. No matter what people are trying to make me think. I still love you and I know you loved me! “ Rob (My Love)

Its me again I wasn't gone write for a few days. Although I'm still mourning and missing you. I didn't and want it to seem I'm obsessed . I remember you telling me you loved me not in an obsessive way but on some real type stuff. That's how I feel and felt about you. I seen this quote and it reminded me some much of our relationship. "MEETING YOU WAS BY FATE,. BECOMING YOUR FRIEND WAS BY CHOICE, AND FALLING LOVE WITH YOU WAS OUT OF MY CONTROL". Wouldn't you agree that describe our relationship? I'm just at a loss now although you always complained when we was on the phone I was constantly getting phone calls or text messages. Believe it or not baby my phone never rings and no text message alerts never beep. It has been 20 days today since I heard your voice. It seems like 20 years. I know life has to go on because you are gone and never coming back. After planning and discussing to become one I find it so hard to move on without you. I know you wouldn't be please with how I have isolated myself away from the world. I like being alone from time to time I find myself talking to your picture hoping you can give me some insight as to why. I find myself shedding tears from time time missing what we established and what we shared. I thought once the task of being together was accomplished we/I could and would substain anything. Boy was I wrong. Some people may think we hadn't been in a relationship long enough for me to be in the state of mind I now find myself in. If they knew what obstacles we went threw to be together then my love for you wouldn't be questioned. I wish heaven had a phone so I could maybe get that one call in for you to explain to me what was going on or what happened. You told me you loved me on a daily basis. So I'm not and never will questioned that. I just feel that there was so much going on with you that you was too ashame to share with me. No matter what it was Rob you knew how I felt about you and we could have and should have been to work threw it as the one we were planning to be. I just feel I have been robbed of my happiness.

When you left this world I loved you and you only. There is no one else and never will be anyone else. Rip my love until we cross paths again.

I talked to Barbara yesterday and she assured me how much you cared about me. Like I told her I know you weren't perfect and had flaws. But in my eyes you were perfect to me and for me. All I have left is a few text messages we shared due to me recently getting a new phone. But I repeatedly read them everyday. You always brighten my day by telling me how much I meant to and how much you loved me. Rob I loved you dearly too. I know it wasn't right how we met and got in involved with each other. But us crossing paths was a blessing in disguise. You alawys said us meeting the way we met was meant to be. I remember you telling me " you gone be my woman I'm coming back to Muskegon to get you".
