“ Remebering Robin, we knew each other through the Detroit Church Assemblies, Circle Y Ranch and the United Youth Conferences. We grew up and did life but this yet saddens me, knowing the Halliburton family. Rest in peace sister, you have completed your good work!

“Ms. Barker, Ms. Barker” in my “Friday” voice lol

I'm so grateful I got to experience you and your family on a personal level. I was definitely intimidated by you in the choir stand as I searched to find my own voice, but you were so good at your craft and helped me come out of my shell somewhat, guiding me to my first (awkward) solo. The time we did a cantata at Central was the most memorable choir moment to me. If I could make it in a choir where Ms. Barker was the director, I knew I could make it anywhere. You brought excellence out everyone.

Later, I got to spend more time with your daughters and even rode home from high school some days in order to go to liturgical dance rehearsal. Your parents (Mama and Papa) welcomed me with loving arms and riding to the “E-street” (modified for privacy) became one of my favorite highschool memories, I-75 traffic and all. Thank you for being there for my family and I many times.

I'm hurt that your time has come to an end on this side of heaven, and I'm praying for your daughters, who are some of the most loving, intelligent women, with integrity, and who know how to have fun. You showed them they can be anything and to experience their creativity in ways that fit them best, although watching from afar mostly these days, I see it reflected in them, and I see their unconditional love they share with others. I'm so blessed by witnessing your family in real life and on social media over the years.

I will keep praying for your family and all those impacted.

Thank you for making a difference in my life and the lives of several others. I love you.
