April 19, 1958 - November 4, 2016

The Life Of Ronnie Edward White

Ronnie Edward White was born in Detroit, MI to his parents Ed and Carrie White. Ronnie was preceded in death by his father, Ed White, his grandmother and grandfather Kelly and Alma Nash, and his eldest sister Linda Renaud.

Ronnie is survived by two sons, Ronnie Jr. and Rondale, and two granddaughters, Kaylynn and Londyn. He is also survived by his mother, Carrie White, and his siblings, Pamela White, Donnie White, Crystal White-Philpo, Angela White, Brian White, and Jonnie White. He was also very close with his nieces and nephews (Latoya (To-To), Tashika, Dominique, Todd Jr., Lanita, Jimmie (Moosa), Janay, E.J., Bianca, Nichelle, Bria, Bryah, Jonnie Jr., JuWaun, Kourtni, Jacob, and Tyler) not to mention many great-nieces, great-nephews and cousins, like Delphine Brinson, and of course his lifetime dear friend Greg (Chess) Cotton. He had a funny nickname for all of us at one time or another. I'm sure we all share a memory of Ronnie that makes us smile, a memory that we can embrace in our time of sorrow.

Ronnie loved dogs, old school music, rap (2Pac) especially, and spending the holidays with his family. His youngest brother, Jonnie, will forever treasure that he was able to spend each day for the last three months with him.

Ronnie will forever be known as the sweetest, most humble, and most helpful man anyone has ever had the blessing to know. No matter what he was doing or where he was, he would make himself available to you; he would find a way. It is his sweet spirit; his great, wonderful and giving heart that will be missed the most.

Family meant everything to Ronnie and Ronnie meant everything to us. We are all made better for knowing him.

“ Hey Uncle Ronnie.... What you doin?? I was just thinking about you sitting in the chair in my living room waiting on me to finish the paperwork you asked me to do,.. Thinking how you kept calling and I didn't answer the phone because you called while I was getting ready for work... You would just show up at the front door and even though I was running late I made time to finish the paperwork.. I'm so happy that I was able to put a smile on your face...I miss you...

“ Uncle Ronnie, miss you already. Just sitting up here thinking what I'm going to say tomorrow. I had no idea the last time I saw you, was gonna be the last time.... you never let me down; anything and anytime I needed you, you were there with everything you had to offer...Tell granddad, my momma, and grandma Nash I love them and I love you too.

“ Uncle Ronnie, I am going to miss you. Your LAUGH for sure! I could always count on you to be my cosigner. I would wait until you and my dad were together and ask for whatever I wanted at the moment, only to have my dad yell and tell me no! Of course you would laugh as only you could, and of course the next time, my dad would say yes, now leave me alone Milan! So grateful to have known you all my life. Now may you rest in heaven, Milan (Chess daughter).
