“ To my dearest little cousin. I am so sadden to hear of your passing. There were not many in the family with whom I had a close bond with. You were one of them. There was so much respect and love for one another that most of the family didn't possess. I remember the phone calls out of the blue when you would just check in and we would talk sometimes for an hour. I remember you coming to show love when I didn't know you were around but you saw me. I am really going to miss you little cousin and I hope that this gets through because I don't know anything about doing these things. Sadden to see that no one else has posted because you always showed much love to everyone. Hope that you are at peace and getting much love and rest now with no more pain. Auntie I really send my love and prayers with you and your family at this time.

“ I have always loved and respected my little cousin. No matter where I saw him any time day or night the love was shown. My last memory of my cousin was last year at my other cousin's wedding, even though he was on a cane and I should've been coming to him he found me first and showed much love. There were times when it could be late at night he would give me a call just to check in on me. I will always love him and he will never be forgotten. Rest in peace one of my dearest cousins. I am glad that there is no more suffering for you but only peace that Christmas himself can give. Auntie I love you and my prayers are with you and the family. Love Kelly Blessett
