“ My name is Adrien. While we were in Vista, me and S'riyah were best friends. We would play the ouija board, watch Amphibia, do yoga, share memories and laugh with each other. I cannot imagine the pain that envelopes you all, but I feel the pain that touches me. She will forever be missed. She was an angel. I hope you all are doing okay.

“ My Sweet Girl S'riyah I am so sad and hurt to hear your are no longer here. The moment I meant you I immediately knew you were destine for greatness. I saw a great leader, powerful charisma beautiful young lady. Ever time I saw you I would tell you how I could see you being powerful and famous. I would tell you that I could see you becoming a famous writer, author, or actress. Your writing, poems, short stories, dancing and singing would light up what ever room you entered. I would tell you that I could see you being a Rock Star. You already had the Rock Star name, "S'riyah". My sweet girl, I am so sorry this happened to you. I just knew that your situation was going to be your mighty testimony that would inspire a block busting book or movie that would have the world talking about your story, your victory and your overcoming. S'riyah I am so hurt that you had to endure this, but I know that God makes no Mistakes. Rest in Peace My Sweet Girl. You will always be in my heart. I pray for peace for your brothers and sister at this time. I can only image the pain, Narrisa, Robert and Dekoven are feeling with your lost. You left here way too soon baby girl and you presence will be deeply missed.

“ S'riyah you sweet girl. The moment I saw your name and your face I saw greatness. I saw way more than what others saw. I saw a leader, a strong charismatic beautiful young lady that was hurting and just needed consistence love and favor. Every time we spoke I would tell you how talented you were. Your poems, short stories, your singing and dancing was just such a joy. I would tell you as we spoke that you were destine for greatness. I could see your name in lights, I could you as a famous writer of movies and books. You already had a rock star name "S'riyah". I really believed that your situation was truly going to be your testimony and fuel you would use for your journey toward your big wonderful purpose in life. You left here way to soon, my sweet girl. I am so sad to have to write this to you, but I know that God makes no mistakes. Rest in Peace Baby Girl. You will always be in my heart.
