March 11, 1950 - May 28, 2014

The Life Of Sarah Jane Slater:

Mrs. Sarah Jane (Mack) Slater was born on March 11, 1950 in Bishopville, SC. She was one of the thirteen children born to the late Warren, Sr. and Ella Louise (Bradley) Mack. Sarah was a loving daughter, sister, mother, grandmother, aunt and cousin, loved by her family and friends. She was called to her eternal home on Wednesday, May 28, 2014.

Sarah was educated in the public schools of Lee County, SC and Newark, NJ. Known for her tireless work ethics and devotion to her family, she was employed by various businesses from Newark, NJ to Detroit, MI. Sarah worked for years at Drakes' Bakery in Newark, NJ before moving to Detroit, MI. She continued in the bakery industry and secured a job at Hostess Bakery, where she worked for a number of years before retiring.

Her labor was not in vain. Within every church where she was a member, her angelic voice could be heard. During her youth years, she attended New Zion AME Church in Lee County, SC. As an adult living in Newark, NJ, she was a member of Pleasant Grove Baptist Church and Good Neighbor Baptist Church. When she relocated to Detroit, she continued her fellowship at Second Ebenezer Baptist Church where she actively participated in the choir as a soprano.

She suffered many years with her illnesses, but never denied her belief and trust in God. She worked hard for her children and grandchildren. Sarah had an outgoing personality and was never a stranger anywhere she went. In fact, she made friends easily.
