“ I have never had the pleasure of meeting Ms. Black, but I have had the privilege of meeting her son Brandon while we coached the kids baseball team this year. I know Brandon spoke very highly of his mother and talked about what a wonderful, supportive, hardworking, caring and loving mother she was. The proof of her good works and what a terrific person she was is evident in the eyes of her son. May God Bless Ms. Black and give her eternal peace and happiness and may The Lord comfort her family with His warm and loving embrace during this sad and difficult time, but may they always remember and cherish the wonderful memories they have of her deep in their hearts and minds.

*With Deepest Sympathy,

“ The poem is something that came to me about 6 months after my sister's sudden death. I found her dead on her bedroom floor when I went in to change her bandages from a recent surgery. A blood clot from that surgery is what killed her. The poem tells my journey through grief - from the initial disbelief to the final acceptance. There is not a day that goes by that I don't miss my best friend. I will always love you.....

“ Please accept my condolences for the passing of your dear loved one. When someone we love dies, the heartache and grief can be great. I hope that you can be comforted knowing that God cares for you and sees your pain. (1 Peter 5:7)
