“ First I must say, Everything that’s good God did it. It is very hard for us to let go of our love ones but we not want to allow or see them suffer In order for us to see any of our love one’s again we have to be pleasing in God’s eye sigh.

My first cousin Vanessa has did all of that and some. She fought the fight and finished her journey for the Lord. This is where you become perfect and our Father welcome you home.

*Please trust and believe ALL of the roll calls on my cousins have been very overwhelming for the Sanders family as well as our

“ To the Family of Vanessa McLemore,

During a time when I was very perplexed, Mrs. Vanessa McLemore gave me clarity. My mom had health challenges and lived in another state. I needed to retire from the classroom and get a job that would give me traveling flexibility. Vanessa said that I should apply to be a RESA Math coach. I didn't believe that I had the skills set for that position, but she reassured me that I could coach Wayne County teachers and instructional coaches. Vanessa provided meaningful support to me that helped me thrive. Both her encouragement and guidance, expertise and insights about how to cultivate healthy collaborative relationships with others, allowed me to transition from classroom teacher to an effective mentor.

I know one of Vanessa's passion was to educate young people. Through our interactions in Detroit Public School District and Wayne RESA, Vanessa championed students' achievement in order for them to have access to a limitless future. I feel so lucky to have had Vanessa in my life. My heart is broken because I wanted her health to be restored. For Vanessa what started as dry eyes that wouldn't tear, became an ailment that took away our warrior, my "shero". Even though missing Vanessa will hurt, I will always think of her with joy because of the light she brought into my life. She was not just a boss but a cherished friend.

*With much love,

“ To my nieces and nephew. I have nothing but love & pride for you. I have been pondering what to say about my sister Nessa. We went to elementary, Jr high, and high school together. I became your sister n law in 1974. You called me your big sister even though only 10 days separated us in age (smile). You have always been my rock, confidant, traveling buddy, and friend. I have 1 more request of you. Say hello to our family for me. I will see you all in heavenly eternity. Love, Rickie
