

Mrs. Vemba Ruth Ford

August 17, 1936 - October 26, 2014

Celebrating The Life Of Vemba Ruth Ford:

Vemba Ruth Ford was the fourth of five children born in Detroit, Michigan to the late George and Grace Jackson. All of her siblings preceded her in death; Bobby, Eugene, Emanuel, and Gertrude.

“Dimple” as she was affectionally called by everyone that knew her, was educated in the Detroit Public Schools system and graduated from Mumford High School. She later continued her education at Lewis Business College, where she earned an Associates Degree in Pre-Law.

On March 4, 1960, Dimple married the love of her life, the late Edsel Ford, together they parented three children, their oldest son, Edsel Kyle also preceded her in death.

After raising her children to adulthood, Dimple decided to relocate to Houston, TX, where she lived for three years.

Dimple had two very special cousins, Joyce Clark and Barbara Brown, they became so close, they decided to call themselves “sister cousins.”

Dimple was an avid reader and read every book she could. She also enjoyed old movies and old music but more than anything she loved shopping at resale shops.

Dimple made her transition on Sunday, October 26, 2014 after a brief illness at her home with her two children at her side.

“ To my sistergirlfriend, Vemba (Dimples) Ford. We were friends for over 35 years. We laughed, cried, keep secrets and knew where all the bodies were hid. In early Spring Dimp told me of her diagnosis of cancer. We talked every week, then mid summer she said the dreaded word hospice. i struggled but prayed daily for her strength and mine as well. Last week I heard a song by Hani and Lizzi named Dancing in the Sky and I cried for my sisterfriend because I knew too soon she would be dancing in the sky and singing in the angels choir and I too would wonder if the angels would know just how special Vemba was to all who knew and loved her. Dimples is now an angel to all of us and I am glad she enriched my life.
