

Mr. Victor Angelo Evans

October 9, 1957 - March 28, 2023

Victor (Vic) Angelo Evans was born in Athens, GA to Carolyn Wyatt and Ellis Flemming on October 9, 1957. In 1963 relocated to Detroit, MI with his mother and siblings. Victor attended the Detroit Public Schools and later attained his G.E.D. from Cooley High School in 1975. In 1977 he left Detroit and returned to Athens where he worked as a carpenter. He eventually returned to Detroit in 1979 where he held employment with Northland Mall and Ladbrooke DRC in the Metro Detroit area.

Victor found his happiness in music, writing, and all things Sci-fi. His music of choice was Rock N Roll. He could always be found with the volume loud while playing an air guitar. His favorite artists were Jimmy Hendricks and The Isley Brothers.

Victor wrote many novels and poems throughout his life. Science Fiction was his genre of choice. He would sometimes show them off to his loved ones. At one time he had filled his mother's basement with stacks of his handwritten works.

Victor loved his family, especially his nieces and nephews. He would often take time out with them to chat, sit with them, or spend the day at the movies. He made sure to introduce them all to the Godzilla film series. Godzilla films were one of his many favorites.

Victor departed this life on March 28, 2023. He leaves to cherish his memory: His siblings Fredrick Evans, Teresa (Michael) Carpenter, and Sonja (Selwyn) Brown. His beloved nieces and nephews: Shawntay (Mario) Washington, Fredrick Evans Jr. (Nya), Danielle Evans, Krishana Headen, Michael Carpenter Jr, Kelvin Floyd, Shawnisha Carpenter, and Paige Evans. He also leaves and host of relatives, cousins and friends.

Victor was preceded death by his grandfather Alfonso Hull Evans, his grandmother Essie B. Walker, his father Ellis Flemming, his Mother Carolyn J. Wyatt, and his nephew Arnez Angelo Evans.
