

Mrs. Vivian Harris

July 21, 1932 - November 8, 2013

Thanks for being here with us today as we celebrate the life of Vivian Harris. Vivian was born in Detroit, Michigan on July 21, 1932 to the late Margaret and Allen Thomas. She was one of ten children: two boys, Albert (deceased) and Allen (deceased) and eight girls, Lasser (deceased), Catherine (deceased), Sadie (deceased), Eloise (deceased), Vera (deceased), Alfreda (deceased), and Dolphis (living). Vivian was part of a very close Thomas family who really looked after one another and loved each other so much.

During her children's early childhood, her mother Margaret ensured that the entire family was over each and every Sunday for family dinners. Vivian and all of her children were present and accounted for on those glorious Sundays. The moments at 558 Josephine Street were so precious to Vivian.

In her early years, before the Harris Family came into existence, Vivian was a very intelligent young lady who taught others to read and really cared about people around her. Her independence gained opportunities that were so far reaching as coaching youth sports and creating many close friends along the way.
