“ Ms. Bracey and I worked together at Lessenger Middle School under Principal, Ms. Jean Nash. I’m now a teacher at FLICS....Ms. Bracey was the librarian of Lessenger MSchool to my recollection at that time. She was someone that loved the Lord. She said to me on one occasion...”We have to brighten the corner where we are.....” She had a plaque on the wall that said, “Profanity is a weak mind trying to express itself forcefully....” I used to speak to her each day that I was at Lessenger. She was inspirational. I moved on to M. L. King High School as a foreign language teacher there. We parted the way there but, I never forgot her. Ms. Bracey was someone that you couldn’t forget....She left an indelible impression. Just today, I thought of her and wondered how she was and I was saddened to know that she had made her transition. But, I know that now she is in the arms of the Lord Jesus.....God bless the Bracey family Mr. O. E. Kimbrough, Jr. (Detroit Public Schools Community District - FLICS)
