“ Wellington was a responsive worker when he was at MTU-DD and provided me with assistance as needed for my job many times; most notably by making time to do it now and not say come back later. At other social gatherings when at work or lunch or after work he was a fun person to be around to share stories as well as listen to stories. We even shared a few lunch appearances after he left MTU-DD and started working just around from his old office. He is missed.

“ Wellington and I worked together at Magna and he touched so many lives. Our office will never be the same without him. He will always be remembered for his great sense of humor, sunny disposition and of course that infectious smile! He truly was one of a kind.

My condolences to the Savage family on your loss. May your loving memories bring you peace, comfort and strength today, tomorrow and always.

“ I worked with Wellington at Magna. He's one of the good ones that you don't come across very often. I'm happy he was placed in my life. He was always in a good mood, always making a joke or appreciating someone else's humor. He never had a bad thing to say about anyone. It always cracked us up when he said he was "going home to a house full of Savages". I miss him and his awesome attitude.

“ I'm sorry for your loss. May God's love surround you during this difficult time.

I remember Wellington as a kind, dedicated person. 'Though I didn't work with him directly at DDC, we'd run into each other and share thoughts in passing. He always had a smile!

“ Wellington was a friend and we shared Biblical humor together. One time I remember it was close to Easter and he was going to have the family over for a ham dinner. We both remembered the old "Rath" brand canned ham. I mentioned to him when the guest come over he was to say, "who warned you of the Rath to come" and we would have a great laugh. Or, when MTU powered a new boat the MTU News would announce it, We put our own twist, Noah's Ark was repowered with two MTU 16V4000M70 marine engines and we would have a great laugh. There were so many other Bible humor we came up with. We had that special working friendship together. He was a fellow LTU alumni that I had the most respect. I really missed him when he retired. I love you man. Sincerely, Mike Turner
